The Committee Notifies Harrison of His Nomination.

Washington, June 20.—The committee to notify President Harrison of his renomination by the Minneapolis convention waited upon the president to-day.

Chairman McKinley in a brief address conveyed the official information to the president and highly complimented him in the course of his remarks.

The Tammany Tiger Has a Front Seat This Week.

The Boies Boom Seems to Stand the Wear and Tear of the Early Days Without Bagging at the Knee—Ante-Convention Chat.

Chicago, June 20.—(Special)—Democratic conventions grow appreciably larger with each quadrennial period. There were more strangers in Chicago, attracted by the big council of democracy, Sunday night, than attended the convention on its biggest day in 1884, and another day will swell the numbers to magnificent proportions. This growing interest in democracy is healthy. The pulse of the great nation beats in harmony with the principles of democracy, and public sentiment is largely with the party that never falters in the good cause, though political clouds sometimes darken the sun of promise.

This year there are no clouds, everything is bright and hopeful w— democracy. The horoscope indicates glorious things in store for the old party, there is everything to cheer the veterans and a world of promise and encouragement for buoyant youth and vigorous manhood.

This is a democratic year.

The campaign air is charged with democracy, it is felt everywhere. It is the uprising, the fullness and the overflowing of feeling which dominates public opinion since the passage of the McKinley law, which irrevocably committed the opposition to the policy of high taxes for individual and selfish benefit.

It is the feeling that comes up from states that are in republican revolt. It is the feeling that wells up from — factional fight at the Minneapolis convention. It is the feeling that impels the people to get away from the bad methods of the army of office-holders, mustered, drilled and officered by the Harrisonian policy of rule or ruin.

The enthusiasm in Chicago sounds like victory. The local democracy are almost assured of the election of their candidate for Governor, and the more hopeful ones think the republicans will have hard work to hold the electoral vote of Illinois. The convention visitors are confident of success, hence the contest for the candidate who shall lead the hosts of democracy is spirited, though good-natured.

The intense bitterness which Tammany exploited in St. Louis and Cincinnati and Chicago, in 1876, 1880 and 1884, is not troubling the present convention. Tammany is largely anti-Cleveland, but not a leader of Tammany threatens to take his grievances home to the campaign and election. On the contrary the braves say their organization will be loyal to the candidate of this convention.

There is no reason to seriously consider the chances of any man other than Grover Cleveland. The situation is not in any particular parallel to the Minneapolis problem, in which both the Harrison and Blaine factions toyed with the favorite son idea several days. Here the Cleveland men, confident in their more than two-thirds strength, do not permit the suggestion — another candidate.

It is Cleveland against a much disorganized and aimless field.

The combinations are not strong enough to disturb the Cleveland leaders, of which William C. Whitney is clearly and by common consent the general in command.

Mr. Whitney is a wonderful organizer. He knocks his enemy down with weapons of persuasion and inspires the whole force, friendly and opposed, with the fact, too much lost sight of by each, that all interests in this convention spring from democratic principles, and that all contestants are actuated by a desire for success.

When a democrat like Whitney thus appeals to democrats for harmony and unity he is a queer democrat, indeed, who does not listen to him.

Mr. Whitney does not intend that the dissenters shall become disturbers of the democratic peace, though he does propose that the man whom they represent shall be the democratic candidate for president.

He is the most tactful leader the party has had for many years and both sides accord him praise for the good work he is doing in this convention.

It is certain, even at this early writing, that if it were possible for another than Cleveland to be he choice of the convention, it would be Whitney, almost unanimously. He is a favorite with all factions and every delegation.

Cleveland and Boies is the talk in various state headquarters. The combination is strong and popular. The Hawkeyes say their Governor will not accept second place, but such talk is nonsense. No man in the democratic party to-day is too great to accept the nomination which spontaneously went to two such great democrats as Hendricks and Thurman.

Boies is the idol of his party, and more than his party, in Iowa. Democrats are confident that he would swing the state into the democratic line in November, and republican lookers-on in this convention prefer any other combination.

One gratifying thing is noticeable in every hotel corridor in Chicago to-day: the party disposition is to win success in other states than those which were carried by Cleveland in 1884. The enemy will find the most perfect democratic state organizations this year, and the office holders wil have to hustle at a livelier pace than ever before to keep several northern states from slipping from their grasp. This determination is manifest, not because of the present republican disaffection resultant from the defeat of Mr. Blaine, but because they believe the people are ready for a change, and because the principles of the democratic party will commend the candidate to the suffrages of conservative classes of all parties this year.

This hopeful feeling dominates the thousands who are in Chicago to attend the convention, and the enthusiasm will keep for use during the campaign.

Chicago is the best city in the United States for holding a national convention. The facilities of all kinds are better, and the accommodations are perfect. Within an area of ten blocks there are fully twenty hotels, the largest in the country, and a vast army can be quartered without disturbing regular business. Even New York does not possess so many hotels conveniently located for convention purposes.

The capital of the great west is metropolitan in all things and provincial in none. It is a comfort to attend a big gathering in Chicago.

To come back to the convention business: one of the singularly unaccountable things observed, and generally remarked, is that the men whom President Cleveland favored with office are opposing his renomination. This is true of Ohio and it is true of nearly all the states. One would think they, of all democrats, would loyally advocate Mr. Cleveland's nomination. Those who so oppose him are frank in saying they would like to see him in office again, but fear he is not so strong as he was years ago.

Upon that supposition they can honestly oppose his nomination now, but it is really gratifying to see such exceptions as Wm. C. Whitney, of New York, and Major Armstrong, of Ohio, who are doing their level best for Grover. The Major is a good fighter and strikes vigorous blows.

The delegates are made miserable by the importunity of friends who want convention tickets. For every ticket at the disposal of the delegates there are 50 applicants. Colburn and Habbeler arrived Sunday afternoon and were instantly besieged by a small army of constituents.

Sergeant-at-Arms Bolan, of Toledo and Minsel, of Defiance, are relied upon to take care of a regiment or two of convention visitors. How they will be able to do so puzzles them and everybody else.

The reader is admonished to sift convention reports, rumors and combinations with judgment and discretion. Stick a pin right here: Cleveland will be nominated. It will be a procession. After the preliminaries are out of the way the various state delegations will gracefully salute the Empire state with banners and flags, and unity will swell into harmony and the boys will go home to whoop it up for Grover and win with Grover. Thus the situation promises to be from start to finish.

PROGRESS IN CHINA.

The Wheels Move Slowly in the Dragon's Empire.

His Majesty the Emperor of China and the "Son of Heaven" is enjoying a train of miniature railroad cars, presented to him by the French syndicate of capitalists who wish to get contracts for building railways.

In China, they will wonder at its steam engine; and the six thousand electric lights, which are now being introduced into the holiest of Chinese sanctuaries, cannot but turn their eyes to our civilization. It will not be long ere a material advancement will be made in the science of medicine, which has for so many centuries remained a blot upon their civilization.

The missionaries are doing much to dispel the mysticism and reverent awe which the Chinaman holds for the concoctions of snakes, toads, lizards, etc., prepared by the native doctors. They recommend standard remedies which have long been favorably known in America and Europe, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a remedy for all cases of blood-taints or humors, which has had years of uninterrupted success in the United States, and numbers its cures by the tens of thousands. This is a point gained for the future welfare of the Drogomen Empire.

LOOKING OVER THE FIELD.

Clevelanders Confident, Hillites Hopeful, Boies Men Waiting.

Chicago, June 20.—On the eve of the great contest for the democratic nomination for the presidency, the leaders of the various elements are actively engaged in marshalling their forces so that it may be determined as definitely as may be possible just where they may expect to stand on the first roll call.

The situation this afternoon presents no particular change; it is the field against Grover Cleveland. The latter has just about as many votes as had Harrison at Minneapolis, but unfortunately for him the democratic nominees for the presidency are made by two-thirds of the delegates, instead of by a bare majority, and consequently his path is not as smooth as was that of the president.

His supporters to-day are claiming nearly 700 votes on the first ballot, or more than enough to nominate him, but they are not giving out any figures by the states in support of the claim, while the friends and supporters of Senator Hill say that Cleveland's outside strength is less than 500, while they claim over 300 for their own favorite.

The Tammany anti-Hillites who are here over 1,000 strong, have been devoting much of their time and attention to the Cleveland delegates from the south, and they say that considerable inroads have been made on the strength of the ex-president in that section.

Gov. Boies, of Iowa, might well be proud of his supporters. They have worked like Trojans. At times is seemed as though half the state of Iowa had been dumped down upon Chicago. The headquarters of the Iowans have been crowded all the time, and there has scarcely been an hour of the day or night since Thursday some of the Iowa contingent could not have been found in the headquarters of all the various state delegations, where the booms of the other candidates are in full blast. To-night the Iowans propose to have a great torchlight parade, and calculate that fully 10,000 people will be in line. There will be a dozen bands, and banners and flags and mottoes to an embarrassing degree.

The Marylanders have been putting in some good work for Gorman, and the Indianans for Grey, but it is admitted that the Hawkeyes have carried off the banner for energy, zeal and public spirit in behalf of their candidate.

There is a good deal of speculation regarding the probable course of the New York anti-snap delegation. Up to noon to-day those composing it had not decided what move to make and their plans will not have matured until to-night.

The instructions of the Syracuse convention were to the effect that the delegation should choose whatever course might seem wise when the convention has assembled.

One block in their path is the general lack of knowledge concerning the exact strength of the Cleveland element.

They do not want to make a contest in the event of the ex-president having a sufficient number of votes outside of New York to nominate him, but on the other hand if he has a majority in the convention, but lacks the necessary two-thirds, they will contest the seats of the regular New York delegation.

So far the factional fight has not been characterized by any great amount of bitterness or ill-feeling, mainly because such dignified citizens as Messrs. Grace Coudert, and Fairchild are not the kind of men to be drawn into a war of vituperation.

The situation as summed up this afternoon is, that while ex-President Cleveland has undoubtedly a majority of the convention he lacks considerable of the necessary two-thirds.

PALMER WITHDRAWS.

He Wants Illinois to Vote for Grover Cleveland

Chicago, June 20.—Like a shot from an ambushed enemy came the announcement to the anti-Cleveland leaders —ator Palmer, of Illinois, had arrived in the city, had withdrawn from the presidential contest, and requested that the 48 votes of Illinois be cast for ex-President Cleveland.

This means that the strongest of the doubtful states of the west was in line for Cleveland and that 48 votes more would be added to that column, which is already dangerously near the two-thirds line.

Senator Palmer's arrival was unexpected and his visit to the city is solely for the purpose of effecting the nomination of ex-President Cleveland, to whose cause he has been sincerely devoted ever since the opening of the presidential campaign. To a reporter who met Senator Palmer immediately upon the arrival of his train, he said:

"I have come here to ask the Illinois delegation not to antagonize Cleveland but to be consistent in obeying the wishes of the democrats of the state of Illinois and fight for him and help nominate him.

"Above all, I do not want any defection in the delegation or in the ranks of the Illinois democracy. I want this state to be carried for Cleveland, and I have no doubt it will be if he is nominated by the convention.

"I have come here to consult with our delegation, to the end that there may be united and concerted action. I myself have always been for Cleveland, and still believe that he is the man to nominate.

"I have tried to divest myself of all personal interest in the matter, and my great anxiety is that we should now have harmony in he party throughout the state, because I believe we will carry Illinois if we do not handicap ourselves. And I do not believe either (with emphasis) that it is necessary to have a local candidate in order to carry Illinois."

TURNING TO GORMAN.

Hill Men Think He Is the Only Man to Beat Cleveland.

Chicago, June 20.—Arthur Gorman, of Maryland, was the forlorn hope of the anti-Cleveland men when they finished their labors and, weary with the day's work, went to bed.

No formal announcement of the senator's candidacy had been made. He has played a waiting game for many years, and he is not coming into the field openly now to be defeated. But by an understanding had with him yesterday afternoon his strength was canvassed thoroughly through the delegations and before midnight the anti-Cleveland men thought they had counted more than one-third of the delegates against Cleveland, of whom a majority were Gorman men.

All that the opposition has been striving for in the past two days is enough strength to prevent the nomination of Cleveland on the first ballot. After that ballot his enemies think his strength will be divided. Pledges and instructions will be disregarded and delegations will divide their votes according to individual preference.

Mr. Gorman gave a tacit consent to the use of his name yesterday in the missionary work among the doubtful delegates, and Tammany, while it still shouted for Hill with a loud voice, spoke Gorman praises in a whisper.

The result of the combination was seen by the Cleveland men in the disaffection of some of the southern delegations.

"Fellows has been down among those Arkansas and Alabama people and they are all disorganized," said one of the Cleveland leaders to another at midnight. The silver states as well as the southern states had been approached, and the result was the announcement at a late hour that the silver vote would go to Gorman.

The Marylander has been as cautious as the senator from New York in committing himself to free silver. There was no difficulty in persuading the votes caught by Hill's silver letter of last December being turned over to Gorman when the silver conference was held last night. They will give to the Gorman vote on the first ballot strength enough to make the Maryland man a formidable candidate if Mr. Cleveland is not nominated.

When the anti-Cleveland managers retired last night they did not know whether Mr. Gorman would allow his name to be presented to the convention. Mr. Gorman has waited many years for his time to come. His friends have always said he would never announce himself as a candidate unless his nomination seemed reasonably sure.

A committee of the anti-Cleveland men took to his room at midnight a report of the result of their conference. They had canvassed all of the delegations thoroughly, and they told Mr. Gorman that with his aid they could prevent Cleveland's nomination on the first ballot, and they felt confident that after that they could beat him.

THEY WANT CAMPBELL.

The Ohio Delegation Considering the Ex-Governor.

Chicago, June 20.—Gov. Campbell, if he would consent, could undoubtedly have the united backing of his state for the presidential nomination.

Sixteen of the delegation are said to be for Cleveland firmly and of the remaining 30 nothing positive can be said. Some wish to vote for Hill, others for Brice, and still others for some unmentioned candidates, but they are all united in the belief that Ohio could name a successful candidate in the person of ex-Gov. Campbell.

Conferences were held with Mr. Campbell by various small parties of delegates all through the day. It was their persistent request that he allow his name to be presented by the delegation and permit them to work for him for the nomination. Gov. Campbell, however, had but one reply to all such suggestions. If the Ohio delegation should present his name to the convention he declared it would be without his consent, and he would, on the floor of the convention denounce such action with all the force at his command. It remains to be seen whether the delegation will act in the matter without the ex-governor's consent.

SENATOR BRICE.

Plain Statement From the National Chairman.

Chicago, June 20.—Senator Brice said to-day: "Until after the Syracuse convention in New York I had not, publicly or privately, taken any position for or against any candidate for nomination; but the result of that convention alarmed me as to the condition of affairs in New York state.

"When I was selected by the democratic convention from Ohio as a member of the delegation to Chicago, I took up the matter with fellow members and found a general sentiment in my state, in common with several other states, that Cleveland should be supported if he were available.

"We were alarmed as to the prospects and determined to remain uncommitted and to take no part for or against any candidate. We have discussed with other delegates whether it would be safe to nominate Mr. Cleveland if we expected to be successful in November.

"The Ohio delegation has not reached any conclusion as to its preference, but will probably act together when the time comes. If there is a general sentiment in convention that it is safe to nominate Mr. Cleveland, Ohio will cast her solid vote for him with pleasure.

"If there is a general doubt, extending over a large body of delegates, then Ohio will unite in support of Ex-Governor Campbell. If his candidacy does not meet with favor no one else will be presented by our delegation. In that event we would unite on some other western man.

"I cannot see that the situation has changed materially since we reached here. Some developments directly affecting the action of the convention may be expected before Tuesday morning.

"CALVIN S. BRICE."

PENNSYLVANIA.

An Attempt to Break the Unit Rule —It Will Fail.

Chicago, June 20.—In all the combinations made and talked about yesterday the Pennsylvania delegation could only be counted for Cleveland. If Chairman Harrity was ready to state he did not let any one know it, and the Pennsylvania men who are expected to break to Pattison at a word from the secretary of the commonwealth have shown no signs of wavering.

There is an element of discord in the delegation. The anti-Harrity men among the district delegates, led by Senator Wallace and J. M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, are preparing to make an assault on the unit rule. They will have the support of the anti-Cleveland men, but with little hope of success, for the Cleveland majority is too large to be overcome. But if the test vote is not brought on sooner it may come on the vote to suspend the unit rule.

The Wallace men joined the literary brigade yesterday and issued a printed argument for distribution among the delegates.

The democratic state convention of Pennsylvania held at Reading, in 1860, they say, abolished the unit rule which had been in vogue prior to that time.

Before 1860 the state convention elected the delegates to the national convention both for the state-at-large, and the several congressional districts.

Since 1860 the state convention has elected the delegates-at-large only, the district delegates having been chosen by district conferences of the delegates elected to the state convention.

Frequently the district delegates are elected weeks before the meeting of the state convention. The names of the district delegates are reported to the state convention for the information of that body. The state convention having nothing to do with them cannot instruct them to vote as a unit.

Finally the Wallace men say that even Mr. Quay, "autocrat that he is," did not attempt to enforce the unit rule in the Pennsylvania delegation at Minneapolis.

NOBODY WOULD REFUSE.

Chairman Brice's Evasive Answer of a Question.

Chicago, June 20.—Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia, is the leader of the Gorman movement in the south. He was with Mr. Brice when he called on Mr. Gorman. A reporter said to him afterward, "Will Mr. Gorman allow his name to go before the convention if his friends desire to present it?"

"Did you ever know any one to refuse a nomination for president?" replied the senator.

The Tammany men would not talk about Gorman. All they would say was, "We've got Cleveland beaten." Their campaign has not been so much for Hill as against Cleveland. They are not acting without the senator's knowledge and consent in this.

Mr. Hill has no further faith in his own candidacy than he has in the belief that Mr. Cleveland cannot be elected.

ESTIMATE OF STRENGTH.

Cleveland Managers Have Given Out a Vote.

Chicago, June 20.—There is a difference of 166 between the estimates of Mr. Cleveland's strength as made by Mr. Hill's managers and as made by the friends of Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Cleveland's opponents give him 423 and they classify the balance as against Cleveland." They do not give any figures as to the strength of Mr. Hill. At the Grand Pacific, where the anti Hill managers are, their official list was revised and stands as follows.

Total	589	312

The sum of these totals, 901, exceeds the total number of delegates to sit in the convention, and the excess is not clearly explained by those who prepared the table.

The opponents of Mr. Cleveland question the correctness of the estimate of the total delegation of Massachusetts for Mr. Cleveland. Governor Russell, however, states that 28 of the 30 have always been Cleveland men, and the Cleveland managers say that the other two came to Cleveland headquarters and stated that they too would vote for Mr. Cleveland.

The vote of North Carolina, 12 and 10, is the estimate of Mr. Hill's managers, and accepted by the Cleveland men.

The Cleveland men, while they have claimed only 20 of the 30 from Texas, state that they are practically assured that five more will be added to the Cleveland column from that state.

While the two from Utah have been divided in the above table, Judge Henderson, of Utah, it is stated, affirmed that both of Utah's delegates would vote for Mr. Cleveland.

After the Cleveland missionaries had spoken half an hour before the Washington delegation, at their headquarters, the chairman of the delegation announced that although they had been counted for Mr. Hill in the previous estimates, they were now convinced that Mr. Cleveland could carry New York, and that their eight votes would be cast for him.

It will be observed that Arizona and New Mexico, free silver states, which because of that fact had been by many believed for Hill, are placed in the other column in the above table.

IT WILL BE CLEVELAND.

Governor Campbell a Shining Light in Chicago.

Chicago, June 20.—(Staff Correspondence Toledo Bee)—A conspicuous figure in this gathering of strong democrats is ex-Gov. Campbell. His devotion to the cause of Mr. Cleveland is as firm as a rock. The opposition tries hard to flatter him into a favorite son candidacy, but he rejects all overtures with his native Scotch firmness.

He can be the permanent chairman of the convention and probably will be, though he does not ask the place.

There are more Ohioans in Chicago now than attended the state convention at Columbus last week, and still the Buckeyes come to swell the enthusiasm for Grover Cleveland.

The report that Ohio delegates will largely vote against Cleveland is not true. While a majority, perhaps, prefer some other candidate, two-thirds, if not all, realize that Mr. Cleveland will be nominated and they will vote for the winner on the first ballot.

The Cleveland leaders claim two-thirds of the convention on the first ballot, although a poll of the delegates falls short about 50 votes.

As the Cleveland delegates are stayers, and the opposition is aimless, it will readily be understood that the contest will not be prolonged many ballots.

It will be a Cleveland victory here, with new leaders and new combinations of electoral votes during the campaign.

THE WIGWAM.

The Great Auditorium Will Seat 20,000 People.

The wigwam is entirely satisfactory in every respect. Secretary Sheerin said: "Everything is ready. Chicago has done nobly. The prospect is that we will have the most celebrated convention ever held, and one that will thoroughly enthuse the party as well as popularize democratic truths."

As viewed from the exterior the structure does not present anything like the architectural appearance of the many buildings for which Chicago has a world-wide reputation.

But the fact that the wigwam was erected simply as a temporary structure and designed only with a view of securing comfort, convenience, strength and acoustic effects makes it one of the best structures of the kind ever erected in this country.

There has been no attempt to ornament on the exterior, and already those who have been so fortunate as to elude the police, who watch the entrance to prevent interference with the workmen, have been surprised to find out how well the interior arrangements have been perfected.

Nothing has been omitted that would in any way facilitate the work of the delegates, the press, or the comforts of those who will view the proceedings.

The front of the wigwam, which faces Michigan avenue, just north of the Second regiment armory, is 250 feet in width and the full depth is 456 feet. Delegates, alternates, distinguished guests and gentlemen of the press will enter the building from either side on the front ends, the exits being in the center.

Plank walks 32 feet in width lead down each side of the wigwam, and from these walks are six entrances, three on each side, by which those who have tickets of admission will obtain entrance, either to the main floor or immense galleries. The first two entrances at the sides of the building and nearer to the avenue lead to the main floor and the third entrance on each side to the galleries. These staircases are from 32 to 36 feet in width. This arrangement of entrances cannot but meet with favor by all who attend the convention. Police will be stationed at all these entrances.

Inside the structure the same careful arrangements to secure to all the best results have been made. As one enters the front, he passes directly to the raised platform reaching well down to the center of the raised platform reaching well down to the center of the auditorium from which the chairman will direct the proceedings of the convention. At the extreme rear of the platform are the seats for special guests, and on either side is the reserved space for 300 newspaper correspondents. All these seats are on platforms rising in tiers, as, in fact, are also the seats in the wigwam. The band will be stationed in the rear of the chairman, and the secretaries are conveniently located on each side of the presiding officer of the convention. The official reporters are directly in front. Two tiers of private boxes rise from the platform back of the chairman, and the telegraph-rooms are in the rear under the platform. In front of the chairman space has been reserved for the speakers who will address the convention at any length, and being almost in the center of the auditorium will afford convenient view and hearing of every one in the building.

The main floor sections are divided into four parts and will seat 12,000 people, while the gallery will accommodate 7,000 more. The cost of the structure will be upward of $30,000.

MAKING FIGURES.

The Newspapers are Adding the Political Schemers—Ohio's Vote.

Chicago, June 20.—A Chicago paper which has made a canvass of the delegations on its own account publishes the following as its forecast of the first ballot:

Cleveland 518 1-2.

Hill 175 1-2.

Necessary to a choice 599.

In the vote by states in this estimate Ohio is divided 20 for and 16 against Mr. Cleveland. The anti-Cleveland men are not so liberal to Mr. Cleveland and they give names. Their poll of the Ohio delegation is:

For Cleveland—Campbell, Lessauer, Hutchinson, Colburn, Hebbeler, Kilbourne, Donehy, Engler, Schofield, McKee, McCook, Walsh, Pflus, Salin, Holden and Johnson—16.

Anti-Cleveland—Neal, Bernard, Cosgrove, Devenny, Remelin, Frank Huffman, Hull, Cummings, Haskell, Hough, Constantine, Davis, Zugsworth, Stanton, Chapman, Cole, Joseph Huffman, Myers, Critchfield, Southerd, Kane, Ohliger, Kenneyhill, Warwick, Welty and Farley—26.

Doubtful—Brice, Blee, Schwab and Johnson—4.

SOME BOOMLETS.

Senator Gray, of Delaware, May be Before the Convention.

Chicago, June 20.—One of the arguments being used among the silver men in Mr. Gorman's district is one which even Tom Patterson, of Colorado, would not accept. It was the statement that Senator Teller, of Colorado, had said to a southern senator that if Gorman was nominated he would advise the republican voters of the silver states to support the democratic ticket.

Mr. Patterson said frankly that he did not believe it. "But," he added, "I know that both he and Mr. Wolcott are on terms of deepest friendship with Mr. Gorman."

In spite of the denial of Senator Gray, of Delaware, last night that he was a presidential possibility, his name may come before the convention.

His state delegation arrived last night, and Gov. Robert J. Reynolds, its leader, said:

"Every man in the delegation is his own boss. We are not instructed and will vote for any man we like. There is no unit rule to bind us down, either. My own first and last choice is our own senator, Mr. Gray, who is an available man, and who would make as strong a candidate as any man named."

"Will his name go before the convention?"

"In my opinion it will., but I don't know who will present it. In fact, much will depend on Senator Gray himself, who we expect will arrive to-night or not later than to-morrow. Delaware has a right to put in a candidate., and as we have good timber we want to use it."

"Who is your second choice?"

"Senator Gray. He's my choice all the time, but if there appears to be no chance for him I am for Cleveland. But I think it is altogether probable that we will have our own candidate in the field."

DARK HORSES.

Chicago, June 20.—Of the dark horses Palmer has gone into temporary eclipse since his arrival and declaration for Cleveland; Morrison has been put in the background by the Gorman movement, which threatens to take away his "second choice" friends in Arkansas and Missouri; Gov. Campbell is again out in interviews announcing his final determination not to be a candidate; the friends of Mr. Boies are busy contradicting stories that he is willing to take second place, and the Gray following seems to be doubtful about the presentation of the Indiana candidate's name.

Senator Voorhees is freely quoted as saying that he believes Cleveland will be nominated.

ARE WORKING HARD.

Hill Men Turning on the Quiet to Gorman.

Chicago, June 20.—The early morning sentiment in the New York delegation is decidedly Gormanish. Not a member of the delegation but is still positive in his allegiance to Hill, but they are willing to admit that New York might think quite favorably of Gorman's candidacy if Hill were out of the way.

Chairman Murphy, delegates-at-large Slocum and Sheehan and Gov. Flower were up early this morning. Mr. Flower was in the committee rooms at 9 o'clock and found Mr. Murphy up giving orders. The plan of campaign of the day was laid out by 10 o'clock. It is still an aggressive one. According to Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, the work to-day, like that of preceding days is to get votes for Mr. Hill or for favorite sons who will draw from Mr. Cleveland's strength. "And it is simply an alleged strength," said Mr. Murphy this morning. "Mr. Cleveland has not over 400 votes at the outside. What are our figures? Well, we will display them on the first ballot."

"Has New York made, or is it contemplating a deal with Mr. Gorman's supporters?"

"No, we are for Mr. Hill. Of course we are doing our best to get doubtful states in our column but we shall make no deal that will mean the withdrawal of Senator Hill."

The missionary work laid out for the day was chiefly with the Pennsylvania and Illinois delegations. It was admitted that the unit rule would prevail in Pennsylvania and the work with that delegation was in the direction to persuading it to vote for Pattison and after fulfilling the unit pledge to vote for Hill.

The first visitors to the New York headquarters were five Pennsylvanians and they were closeted with Mr. Murphy and Gov. Flower for fully half an hour. Following them came several Illinois men, and later Indiana and Iowa were represented.

The first manifesto issued this morning was from the Hill headquarters.

It was a copy of a communication addressed to Chairman Murphy, officially, under date of June 12 by Thomas J. Dowling, president of the New York State Trades assembly, an organization of 300,000 workingmen.

In it Mr. Dowling says he is directed to call attention to the fact that Gov. Hill, while chief executive of New York, from 1885 to 1892, was the friend of organized labor and was heartily supported by the workingmen in his campaign. The communication calls attention to what Gov. Hill did for the cause of labor in his appointments and in his indorsement of labor measures.

THE NEW YORK FIGHT.

The Contest Before the Credentials Committee Practically Abandoned.

Chicago, June 20.—The practical abandonment of the New York contest before the committee on credentials by the Syracuse delegates has led to some speculation about the probable future of the new democatic organization which that convention put in the field.

Frederick R. Coudert, when asked about this, said: "I doubt whether the provisional state committees, or the provisional local committees, can go out of existence, whether they want to or not, independent of any consideration of what may happen at Chicago."

"The leaders might desire it, but there are 250,000 voters back of these leaders and they don't desire it. There is no doubt about this. It is too perfect an organization to be disbanded at will."

"Is there room for two organizations of this character?"

"There is certainly room for this one," replied Mr. Coudert.

"What will happen in the event of Mr. Cleveland's nomination?"

"These committees would continue to exist until the campaign was over, if not longer."

"What would happen in the event of Cleveland's defeat?"

"There would be an independent candidate for mayor in New York this fall and with the indorsement of republicans he would be elected.

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

Probable That Two Names Will be Presented

Chicago, June 20.—The sub-committee of the national democratic committee to which was delegated the task of selecting a temporary chairman for the convention, met this morning at the Palmer house preliminary to the meeting of the full committee, and agreed upon the name of W. C. Owens, of Kentucky.

This is the name selected Saturday.

At that time the opposition to the selection of Mr. Owens, which came from the Cleveland men, was so pronounced that the sub-committee decided to postpone final action until to-day.

It is practically determined that the national committee will confirm this choice. Unless the Cleveland men change their minds before to-morrow noon, there will be a contest for the temporary chairmanship. They have determined to put up Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, and to leave the choice between the two men of the convention.

There is no doubt that the Cleveland men have a majority in the convention, and therefore it seems likely that Mr. Wilson will be the temporary chairman.

CAN'T FOOL GORMAN.

He Wants His Pledge in Black and White.

Chicago, June 20.—Senator Gorman demands distinct assurances of support from both the Hill and Cleveland men before he will permit his name to go before the convention. This is his ultimatum, and this was the situation at 12 o'clock.

"I believe in practical politics," he said to one of the anti-Cleveland men who was pressing him to declare himself. "Wordy assurances amount to little, in the practical affairs of politics; pledges in black and white speak."

A conference of the Hill and Cleveland leaders with Senator Gorman has been in progress in parlor 106 of the Palmer house since 11 o'clock.

It began with Gorman, Ransom of North Carolina, Wm. C. Whitney, Grover Cleveland's manager, and Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, one of Hill's right-hand men, and Henry Watterson.

It had only been in progress a few minutes when Mr. Whitney came out and made a bee line for the headquarters of the Tammany men.

Apparently his mission was successful, for "Boss" Croker and Chairman Murphy soon made their appearance and were at once shown into the room as if they were expected.

Meantime the hour of meeting of the national committee approached and Henry Watterson and Senator Ransom came out and passed into the adjoining room to sustain the action of the sub-committee in reaffirming the selection of Owens as temporary chairman.

Mr. Ransom said he could form no idea how soon the conferees whose presence he had left would agree upon a plan of joint action, or whether they could come to any arrangement at all.

"One thing is certain," he added, "Cleveland cannot carry North Carolina and we will have to agree upon somebody who can carry New York."

Just before the conference opened Senator Brice called on Senator Gorman and remained closeted with him for half an hour. It was thought that out of this conference would come the announcement of Mr. Gorman's candidacy.

There was a disappointment for the anxious watchers, however, for when Mr. Brice had closed his conversation with Mr. Gorman the Maryland Senator remained as dumb as he has been ever since he came to Chicago.

From his silence, however, the story quickly grew that he had rejected last night's overtures of the anti-Cleveland people, and the story was in part confirmed by some members of the Maryland delegation.

They said that when called on, Mr. Gorman was assured that if he would allow his name to be used he would receive 400 votes on the first ballot—the concentration of the anti-Cleveland vote.

This assurance does not seem to have tempted Mr. Gorman very strongly, for Senator Gibson, who has acted as Mr. Gorman's spokesman, said at noon to-day that it was not probable that Mr. Gorman would allow the use of his name unless he had some greater assurance of strength, as he feared that he might suffer the fate of McKinley at Minneapolis.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. DID NOT LOSE HIS HEAD

Clever Act by a Chicago Bridge Tender.

He Allowed the Bridge to Get Smashed

Rather Than Dump a Street Car Load of People Into the River —General Marine News

Chicago, June 20.—(Special.)—Bridge Tender McKinzie, at Madison street, proved himself capable of generalship late Saturday night, and doubtless averted horrible sacrifice of life. A tug with the schooner Horace Taber in tow had signalled for the bridge to open, the bridge bell rang and the red ball was lowered so the tug proceeded. A street car crowded with people was crossing over and the bridge-tender expected it would clear the bridge in time, but the car got off the track when half on the bridge and half on the approach, and this was the condition of things which presented itself to the bridge-tender. He could have swung the bridge open, but this would surely have thrown the car into the river, so he quickly locked his bridge, shouted hurriedly to the tug, hoping against hope that she might get alongside and check the vessel, and then waited for the inevitable crash. McKinzie had hoped the bridge lock would hold, and this would save the street car and its occupants no matter what damage was sustained by the bridge and the vessel. He performed his feat. The vessel struck the bridge a heavy blow, tearing away railing and footpath and carrying away her own jibboom, bowsprint and headgear, but the bridge lock held and the car was saved. There is no doubt whatever that Mr. McKinzie's action prevented a horrible disaster, as there was 100 people on the car.

A MOUNTAIN SHOWER.

Strange Freak of a Storm in Colorado.

It Was Warm and Wet in the Valley But Was a Blizzard on the Mountain.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 20.—The first thunder storm of the season here, which occurred the other day, was something likely to remain in the memory of every spectator for very many years to come. Spring had been noticeably backward. The altitude here (9,600 feet) would make the season late as compared with that of New York City, but this year the aspen buds did not begin to swell until the first of June, while the ash green of the buffalo grass in the natural parks did not brighten for a week or more later. Once or twice rain fell in May, but on each occasion the rain turned to snow within an hour or two, and the scenery was as bleak as on a day in February. But a succession of warm days brought the breath of summer to the foothills of Pike's Peak so powerfully that those who worked in nooks which kept away the wind, but permitted the direct rays of the sun to strike them, turned often to look longingly at the snowy crest of the great round knob above them, or away across the valley of the Arkansas river to the sharp white peaks of the Sangre de Christo range. The latter view was indeed the more refreshing, for not only did the wintery aspects of the peaks please the eye, the green of grass and trees in the lowlands thousands of feet below was cool and inviting as well.

Wednesday was a particularly warm day, and what was more unusual, the wind died out in the afternoon, leaving the air almost sultry. But this did not last long. A black cloud gathered in the northwest about the upper waters of Oil creek, while Pike's Peak became shrouded in by one of the same sombre color. That about the peak remained in place, but the one in the valley lengthened out and moved slowly down the water courses, showing sheets and films of water pouring from beneath, while the upper surface was streaked at frequent intervals with zigzag flashes of lightning.

From its first appearance, it was a spectacle to attract the eye of the unaccustomed, especially as the plane of the storm was a little below the altitude of the camp. But when, after an hour or so, it had traveled away to the southwest of the camp, and was seen to swing around and head toward the crest of Pike's Peak, the picture was remarkable.

Grouse mountain, a forest covered peak, rose fair in the course of the storm, with an elevation somewhat above it. Approaching this, the clouds rose up on the forward side of the storm, apparently lifted by a current of air, and then, as though bursting through a too long continued restraint, scores and hundreds of electric flames darted from the upturned cloud bank at the mountain crest. The dazzling flashes of the light and the deep roar and reverberations of the thunder among the mountains at once fascinated and silenced the spectators.

A few minutes later the clouds swooped down on the mountain, and then hurrying on fogged in the peaks round about. The lightning failed, and only the swish of the wind was heard. The air chilled suddenly, and the wind increased its speed. People who had leisure to look on got overcoats and wraps and returned to gaze at the misty rolls and swells of a storm so near at hand.

But the storm quickly passed on, dragging its lengthened trail from the peak it had covered over to reveal to hundreds of astonished spectators a vast white sheet of snow wherever the clouds had touched. Then the sun came out, clear and cold, and the landscape gleamed under its light as on a day in January.

The soft warm shower that had refreshed and nourished the flowers in the valley of the Arkansas had become a wintry blast, little short of a blizzard on the mountain tops round about.

PROGRESSIVE HAMMOCKING.

A Western Girl Invents a Game on Which There Would Seem to b No Flies.

The young people in of St. Louis' prettiest suburbs are in a state of feverish excitement over a new game that has been devised by some of their number. It is called "progressive hammocking," and is so full of golden opportunities in a sentimental way that it is destined to become very popular with the youth of both sexes.

A bright young girl, to whom, with several others, is due the credit of having given this new diversion to the world, thus describes it:

"You see, each girl is provided with a hammock, in which she reclines, gracefully or ungracefully, according to the extent of her experience in hammocking, during the game. The hammocks are hung far enough apart so that no one can see or hear her neighbors, and above each is suspended a Chinese lantern with a number on it; but these, of course, will be blown out early in the proceedings. A chaperon is required—preferably two—a lady and a gentleman. To start the game the boys draw numbers from a hat, and then each one hunts up the hammock which corresponds to the number drawn. At a given signal he begins to tell the girl in it a love story. By the rules the stories must be impersonal.

"But of course they won't be. That," she added with a laugh, "is a matter that lies with the story teller and his conscience. Well, at the end of 15 minutes the chaperon beats a tom-tom and the boys move up one hammock, and each tells another story to a new listener. The stories, mind you, must all be different—that is, one cannot tell the same story to two girls."

"And they must all be love stories?" asked the reporter.

"Certainly. Oh, it's more fun. The boys out there are scouring the town for short love stories. De Maupassant is in great demand. But some of them draw on their own experience for material. Well, when the rounds have been made, and each of the six, say, has told six amorous tales to six tender maidens, a secret ballot is taken, the girls voting for the best story teller and the boys for the best listener. That's where the real funny part comes in, for, of course, each girl will vote for the man she likes best, and vice versa; hence, the chaperon will become the sacred repository of one-half dozen true love tales."

"What about the prizes?"

"There will be six first prizes on each side, and no boobies," and the fair schemer laughed heartily at the success of her efforts to devise something new and startling in the way of summer amusement.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

PICKINGS FROM PUCK.

Judge—You are accused of stealing an overcoat. Guilty or not guilty?

Prisoner—Not guilty. I merely adapted it.

Judge—What is your business?

Prisoner—I am an American playwright.

Usher—I can give you a good seat after the first act; the newspaper critics go then.

Saundee—Don't they come back?

Usher—Bless you, no! they only drop in to verify their suspicions.

Landlady—What! going to leave us, Mr. Barginsayle? I hope you've no fault to find with the table?

Boarder—No; the table's all right; but my room-mate is an amateur protographer, and he insists on taking flash-light pictures of me every night when I'm trying to go to sleep!

"I hear that you have left Kernell, Kapp & Co."

"Yes; three weeks ago."

"What are you doing now."

"I'm in business for myself."

"So?"

"Yes. Looking for work."

Office Boy—Can you let me off this afternoon? my grandmother is dead.

Head of Firm—Not very well; but you can run out two or three times and look at the score.

Jess—I believe love is a disease.

Bess—No doubt; but, thank goodness, it isn't one of those you can't have but once.

Teacher in Kindergarten—You've omitted something, Mabel, in making your letter "s." What is it?

Mabel—I guess I forgot to put eyebrows over 'em.

Peppergrass—What are you studying German for? You are not going to Germany, are you?

Spearmint—No; I intend to spend a few months in Milwaukee.

"Oh, misery!" cried the editor.

"What's the matter now?"

"I just threw a poet out of the window; and his wife, who was waiting for him below, has presented one of our insurance coupons at the cashier's desk. He had it on him! Another $500 gone, when $2 would have bought not only his poem but his everlasting gratitude."

GOOD FRIENDS.

Paris, June 20.—Prince Henri D'Orleans and Adolphe, the second son of President Carnot, were on the same steamer from Cambodia to Marseilles and were excellent friends on the way, the son of the pretender seeming to take great pleasure in conversing with the son of the president.

A Good Doctor

MOTHER—NONE BETTER. See what she has in her favor. She's on the spot, she sees the first symptoms; she has sympathy. The little sufferer is bone of her bone and flesh of her flesh. Good points, every one. Add another—the right remedy—and you have as much certainty as can be had in this world that Baby will recover. Dr. Hand has provided the remedy. In Pennsylvania, where he is best known, almost every mother will testify to this. Happy, healthy children is the evidence they offer.

A little Book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, will tell you more of Dr. Hand's work and his remedies. Any Mother can have the book sent to her free. Address

TO WED A PRINCE.

Vienna Preparing for Young Bismarck's Marriage.

Vienna, June 20.—Public interest in the wedding of Countess Hoyos to Prince Bismarck's son to-morrow has shown itself.

Vienna will undoubtedly be overcrowded with many visitors drawn thither by curiosity or affection for the prince. The bridal costume is of silver brocade, embroidered with daisies. The corsage has a corselet and a silver waistcoat arranged with silk gauze and orange blossoms.

The costume has a long tdain of silver brocade als adorned with orange blossoms. The other dresses possessed by the princess are of equal splendor and good taste. Newspaper comments on the wedding are friendly in tone. Only the organ of the foreign office—the Fremblatt—is silent. Many anti-semitics and German national students have ordered 100 carriages for the occasion. They will drive in a body to the palfry palace to-morrow afternoon and will leave specially printed cards for Prince Bismarck.

It is doubtful is Prince Bismarck will exercise his right as a wearer of the grand cross of the order of St. Stephen, to visit Emperor Francis Joseph, without first asking for the favor of an audience. The persons invited to the wedding include all the foreign diplomats in Vienna.

Berlin, June 20.—The Hamburger Nachrichten says that the countess Hoyos is a Protestant and that the rumors daily put in circulation of an aristocratic boycott of the wedding are entirely unfounded.

GUSTA BECKER

Seems to Have Been in the Pocket-Picking Business.

Gusta Becker, who picked Mrs. Fellbach's pocket on Summit street a few days since, was given $20 and costs in police court this morning. It was shown that she had done similar pieces of work on the steamer Pastime and at St. Francis de Sales church. She is a large Jewish woman, about 45 years of age, and a picture of injured innocence.

The trio, "Praise Ye the Lord," by Mr. and Mrs. Currier and Mr. Howell was very beautiful, and the offertoire, "With Verdure Clad," was charmingly rendered by Mrs. Currier. The Scripture readings were impressive, and the entire service was up to the usual standard.

SURGICAL OPERATION.

Mrs. J. K. Tillotson Had a Close Call, But May Survive.

Dr. Pratt, the eminent Chicago surgeon, assisted by Doctors Ball, Rees, Goodwin and Barlow, of this city, performed a delicate surgical operation on Mrs. J. K. Tillotson, at her home here yesterday.

She was two hours under the knife and for a time it was thought she would succumb to the trial and shock. She was somewhat better last evening, and to-day is resting easily. The physicians have stong hopes of her getting through all right.

EQUITY CASES

Being Tried This Week—Everything Quiet in Court.

Judges Ricks and Taft will try equity cases this week, and though some of them are quite complicated, they are not very interesting except to the parties directly concerned, and the crowds that filled the court room last week are not in sight to-day.

The case of Dickson Woods company vs. The Toledo Window Glass company is being heard to-day and to-morrow the patent case of Curtis and Curtis vs. Willet C. Wells will probably come up.

SHOULD TRY THE GOLD CURE

Humane Officer France Investigates a Case of Drunkenness.

The neighbors of Mrs. Feeley, who resides at 1924 Ontario street, complained to the humane agent that the woman was getting drunk and neglecting her children, the youngest, a babe of three months, being sick. Mr. France went to the house and found the woman evidently suffering from the effects of a debauch, but she said the baby was not sick, and the officer could see no signs of illness. There are four children, and the woman was greatly alarmed when told that they would be taken away from her if she did not reform. Her husband is working in Grand Rapids and is providing for his family, but the woman's drunkenness has greatly disturbed the neighbors. She promised the agent that she would reform and she will be watched closely to see that she keeps her word.

MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

Will Keep Open House and Invite the Public.

It has been the custom of the managers of the Manuel Training school to open the school on the day previous to commencement and invite the public to come and inspect the school and its work. The plan has been eminently satisfactory to Toledo people, and the many patrons and friends of the school will be pleased to learn that on Thursday next, from 9 to 12 in the forenoon, school will be open to the public, who are cordially invited to come in and witness the workings of Toledo's pet institution. An exhibition of the work of all grades will be given with the classes at work.

'TWILL BE LIVELY

At the Meeting of the Board of Education.

The board of education will meet in regular session this evening. The contract for supplying desks for the year, will be awarded. The teachers for the next year will also be decided upon. A majority of the board, at the last regular meeting, held two weeks ago, voted to meet last Monday evening and discuss the appointments. The teachers' committee, it seems, for years has disposed of this matter cart blanche, and the board has had little to say. The teachers' committee did not approve of the new proposition, and was not present at the meeting. There will likely be some music to-night.

CAPT. NIXON DEAD.

The End Came Saturday Night—Paralysis the Cause.

At 10:30 Saturday evening Capt. Wm. Nixon died at the residence of Millard Denman at 1432 Erie street, of paralysis.

Capt. Nixon was born in Ireland, and came to Toledo in 1840. He served through the war, entering the service as a private, but he came out wearing the insignia of a captain. On returning to Toledo he engaged in farming until about six years ago, when his wife died. Soon after the deceased was stricken with paralysis, which finally resulted in his death Saturday. The funeral has been announced to take place from 1432 Erie street at 2 p. m. to-day, after which the remains will be interred in the Oregon cemetery.

HERE'S A CHANCE

To Enjoy a Week's Solid Fun at the People's.

Dr. Flint, who amused and mystified his audiences at Wheeler's a few weeks since, will again appear in Toledo. This time at the People's theater, where he opens a week's engagement this evening. Dr. Flint gives a wonderful performance of mesmeric and hypnotic power and his entertainment while being of great scientific interest is amusing and laughable as well.

Under the hypnotic influence he makes his subjects do anything he may wish.

In appearance the doctor is the ideal of a mesmerist. He is large well proportioned, 275 pounds in weight, active and agile as a cat. His piercing black eyes, determined expression, set off by jet black hair and heavy black whiskers, are powerful aids in his practice of the mystic and weird art.

The People's will no doubt be crowded the entire week.

A LETTER CARRIER

Gets Into Trouble and Loses His Position.

One of the highest offenses which a letter carrier can commit is to be found with letters for delivery when he is off duty. Such an offense got Albert Coombs into trouble. He has been in the service for a year and a half, and has, up to this time, been considered one of the best men in the employ. Only Saturday morning Postmaster Brown had sent his name in for promotion, which meant an increase of salary from $800 to $900. This promotion was asked for by virtue of the length and time of service and can be made only when the postmaster deems a man worthy. "For the past thirty days," says Mr. Brown, we have had reason to suspect that money was being taken from the different letters and we have watched the matter with a great deal of concern, it taking both time and money to detect the source of annoyance."

Mr. Coombs was arrested on a charge of being found, when off duty, with letters for delivery, a violation of the law. He was immediately removed from service and bound over by the United States commissioner.

THE CITY PRINTING.

Bids Submitted for Doing the Work.

At noon to-day bids were opened in the city clerk's office for printing the city advertising. The proposals were as follows: Bee, 20 cents per square for first insertion and 15 cents per square for each subsequent insertion; Blade, 25 cents per square; News, 8 cents per square for regular advertising and 10 cents for alternate printing.

CARRIED OFF THE HONORS.

Did Two of Toledo's Fair Daughters.

Mrs. E. S. Tranahan, of the probate court, has returned from London, Ont., where she went to attend the commencement exercises of Hellmuth college, her niece, Miss Nellie Odell, of Toledo, having graduated in the literary course, taking several prizes. Miss Alice Schroeder, also of Toledo, was graduated from this college, in music, securing all of the prizes. London papers speak in highest terms of the way in which the Toledo ladies distanced all competitors in the race for honors, and predict a brilliant career for both.

OFF FOR EUROPE.

Gay Party of Toledoans Who Will Sail on Wednesday.

On Wednesday, June 29, one of the De Potter itinerary touring parties will sail for a summer tour of the old world. The route is planned through the interesting points of Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France, England and Scotland. The following from Toledo are listed with the party: Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rowland, Miss Edna Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. James Secor, Jay Secor, Miss Eva Bond, C. B. Kinman, L. W. Frost, and Mrs. James MacNamar. Mrs. James H. Maples, of New York city, well known in Toledo, will also be a member of the party. The tourists travel by the steamer Friesland, from Jersey City, and will land at Antwerp.

AT TRINITY CHURCH

Canon DuMoulin Preaches—Bishop Atwill in Toledo.

Canon DuMoulin, of the cathedral at Toronto, Can., delivered able and interesting sermons at Trinity church at both services yesterday. Bishop Atwill was in attendance.

In the afternoon Bishop Atwill delivered an address at St. Andrew's chapel, Auburndale, and in the evening officiated and preached at St. Paul's church, East Toledo.

The Bishop and Madam Atwill went to Gambier, O., to participate in the commencement exercises of Cannon college. The bishop will then go to Kansas City and then will go east to spend the summer with friends. The bishop and wife were the guests of C. F. Curtis at the Boody house while in the city.

BACK FROM CINCINNATI.

Police Officials Who Went Down to Look at the Cops.

Chief of Police Raitz, Lieut. O'Dwyer and Mayor Emmick returned from Cincinnati this morning. They had been in attendance at the sixth annual inspection of the police department of that city. They were treated royally by the police officials of the Queen City, and altogether had a most enjoyable time.

Speaking, this morning, of the Cincinnati police, Chief Raitz said: "I have always held that a good soldier will make a good policeman. Cincinnati has evidently found this true, for the 412 policemen in that city are drilled to a degree of proficiency not to be excelled even by the Toledo Cadets, and that's saying a good deal. Their military maneuvers were perfect, and the good results of rigid discipline were everywhere made mainfest.

"They have a perfect military organization, with major, colonels, captains, a cavalry company, a Gatling gun and squad and nine perfectly equipped patrol wagons.

"Every man on the force is in the prime of manhood; all are over five feet ten inches, and finely built.

"They are presented with gold medals for good service generally and rolls of honor for the saving of lives. An excellent idea, I think. We saw many things that will help us in our work in Toledo."

FLORAL CONCERT

Successful Affair at the Church of Our Father.

In spite of the rain yesterday, a large number of parents with their children assembled at Memorial hall annex to take part in and witness the exercises in connection with the annual floral concert of the Church of Our Father. A very attractive program had been arranged, consisting of recitations, choruses, songs, trios and duets, occupying nearly two hours, and yet none were weary, while everybody joined in saying "It is the best concert we have had yet." At the close of the exercises Miss Emma Law told the children a very pretty story and Superintendent Robinson had the attention of every one in his exceedingly bright and pleasing address.

Mr. Jennings then presented the following persons with diplomas, earned by both pupils and teachers during the past year by constant and regular attendance at both Sunday school and church: Claude Rakestraw, Florence Robinson, Joe Jennings, Florence Pelton, Anna Reidenour, Hugh Pelton, Allen C. Jennings, Mabel Samborn, Florence Theurkauff, Norma Kissinger, Mrs. Wm. Wheeler, Mrs. E. H. Kissinger and Mr. James Melvin.

The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers, the work of Mrs. O. C. Baker, Mrs. A. D. Pelton, Mrs. Dr. Melchers, Mrs. Judge Harmon and others.

STILL UNSETTLED

Is the Difficulty Between the Beer Men and the Bosses.

What the outcome will be of the trouble now existing between the boss brewers and their men it would be difficult to prophesy. At the joint meeting yesterday of Brewery Drivers' union, No. 87, and Brewers' union, No. 60, no settlement was reached. The men still insisting that men are being classified under rule 4, when they should come under rule 2, and the boss brewers being quite as positive that men classified under rule 4 rightly belong there. At a meeting this morning the men presented a report to the bosses requiring an answer inside of 24 hours, and this answer will decide whether there will be peace or war.

The following proposition was submitted by the company at 3 o'clock, and is now being considered:

Toledo, O., une 20, 1892.

To the Brewers' Drivers' union:

Gentlemen: Your secretary notified our firm that you insisted upon placing the two routes in question in the highest limit, viz: $75.

We believe that your union is demanding of us that which is unfair and unreasonable, however, we are willing to make the following proposition, which we believe every fair workingman will concede is all that could reasonably be expected of this firm.

The Buckeye Brewing company will submit their case to the president and vice president of the Central Labor union, they to have full power to act; their decision to e final and must be accepted by both sides. We hope this will meet with your approval.

GILBERT GAUL,

The Artist Who Is to Paint Battery H's Picture.

The Bee on Saturday gave a full account of the work of the members of Battery H with relation to the picture they are arranging to have painted for the city. A sketch of the artist, Mr. Gilbert Gaul, will no doubt prove of interest. It is taken from "Representative Works of Contemporary American Artists," published by Charles Scribners' Sons.

Gilbert Gaul was born in Jersey City in 1855. He began his art studies as a student at the National Academy of Design in this city, and speedily won a place at the head of the most talented young workers in those excellent schools. His good fortune sent him as a pupil to J. G. Brown, a painter, whose just and sound ideas and ample knowledge of his art provided his young follower with a broad and firm foundation for the development of his talent. Under his tutelage he exhibited his first picture at the National academy in 1872; he was made an associate in 1880 and a full academician in 1882. His early works betrayed the influence of his master very strongly in style and color; but with developing power his originality asserted itself in methods peculiarly his own. He is to-day one of the most original and strongest painters of the figure our art can lay claim to, a painter moreover thoroughly national in spirit and fact, since he is a product of the soil, whom no great European school has aided in the development of. "Charging the Battery" is undoubtedly the most powerful picture this masterly young painter has created. It is one in a line of subjects which have brought him a merited compensation of honor in his art, and though not the first, belongs among his earlier efforts at the rendition of scenes of war and carnage.

Its exhibition brought him prominently before the public, which had previously known him merely as an artist of great talent and excellent promise, as a master in a field of art only too greatly neglected with us. It demonstrated that the military glory of our country possessed at heart one competent illustrator, and that the chronicles of our wars need not be left to the pens of the historians alone.

It is well said that war finds a congenial time in darkness. The romances of battles are written after the sun goes down. Its grim realities are the strategic movements of the open plains in broad day, and though they mean more to history than such efforts as that Mr. Gaul illustrates in "Charging the Battery," their personal interest is less captivating. Here we have a night of battles, whose veil of darkness is rent asunder by thunder from batons of flame. Out of the gloom the surprising party is storming the works, and, waked to sudden life by the alarm, the threatened stronghold defends itself with a murderous burst of fire. All is a confusion of uncertain forms, wild shrieks and shoutings, the roar of artillery and the screaming of grape and canister, a pandemonium that shocks the hours of sleep and yells in demoniac mockery to the placid stars.

What Cleveland's Strength Signifies.

The country, democrat and republican alike, has confidence in the ability, honor and integrity of Grover Cleveland. His weakness in New York is his strength in the remainder of the country, namely, an unyielding opposition to machine politics. Mr Cleveland stands against methods that disgusted a large body of republicans, at Minneapolis. For that reason he is getting good words on every side from republican voters. It is the most healthful sign in American politics to-day, the revolt against the bossism of party leaders. The cabal of millionaire monopolists, from their intrenchments behind the strong wall of governmental protection, cannot quite dominate the free American citizen. This was shown in a late election and another illustration is imminent. Neither can a strong and defiant faction of bosses in the metropolis rule the actions of a great national party. Hopefully this will be demonstrated in Chicago this week. While the people remain just and honest and have their eyes open and their good judgment on deck, the country is safe. There was never a more critical period in the life of the nation than the present one. Not that there is danger of any sudden revolution. We don't do things that way. On the result of the election of '92 hangs, not the fate or fame of any one man, but: the declaration of the country for freedom and a continuity of the democratic form of government established by the founders of the republic, or, another and a long step towards the strengthening of class rule, a political aristocracy, a government of the many by the few, made great and powerful by legislation which they are permitted, for party strength, to dictate. This is the great issue, and because Grover Cleveland made the issue and stands for the rights of the people, conscientious and undaunted, he is strong in the country. And his nomination and election is confidently hoped for and anticipated.

Buckeye Governors in Convention.

Where are Gov. McKinley's laurels beside those of ex-Governor Campbell. In Minneapolis, Gov. McKinley worked his little boom under cover, even to the extent of being fooled by the wily Foraker, and jerked himself out of the trap by the only way left him, leaving the rest of his delegation floundering in the mire, whither they had been dragged by mistaken fealty to him.

Ex-Governor Campbell does what McKinley would have done, had he been sincere: he declares to the Ohio delegation, "If you present my name it will be without my consent and I will denounce such action on the floor of the convention." That's Jimmy Campbell's way and no Buckeye with the seal of state upon his name and fame ever exhibited more admirable nobleness of spirit. McKinley is nowhere with his posing and Foraker is Foraker to the end of the chapter.

Patriotic Palmer.

Senator Palmer saw the signs in the political horizon looming towards the zenith, and he nobly met the situation. There is much behind it. Said General Palmer: "If Illinois saves the country for Cleveland, with New York striving for his defeat, New York will cease to be the important factor in national politics. If Illinois determines his nomination, and New York succeeds in defeating him, it will be the last time the Empire state will have any appreciable influence in democratic politics." Good for Palmer! Hurrah for Palmer and his good sense and wise logic.

The street car situation as presented in the Bee last Friday should not be a difficult matter to settle. There is no cause for dispute over the joint use of the tracks on streets which the courts, after full investigation, determined shall be jointly used. The Consolidated had its day in court and made a splendid fight for sole ownership and use. Public policy is against such sole occupancy, and since the matter is adjused for joint use, the council should do everything in its power to perfect the double service. Contention and strife will be detrimental to speedy transportation from remote sections to the common center of the city. Conditions have changed within two years. There is no reason for a row now, and in the interest of better and continuously good street car service the council should pass the pending ordinance, providing for the joint reconstruction of the tracks which are now used by the two companies.

The "business interests" in the republican vocabulary means the firms favored by a tariff tax schedule, and that only. A republican exchange says, "Senator Aldrich has received splendid endorsement from his state. The business interests feel safe with him as their representative. He helped to frame the McKinley tariff bill." Natural enough for a Rhode Islander to vote for laws that help the manufacturer; his is that kind of a state. But not natural and wise for an Illinoisan or a Nebraskan to vote also for Rhode Island interests to the imperilment of their own. That's the point to be considered.

The Buffalo Express said "the first tin-plate factory in New York city has been started on an 'experimental basis.'" The Boston Herald puts down this republican euphemism with others of the party shibboleth. A cut in wages is called "a readjustment." A little patch of free trade on a hide-bound restriction bill is "reciprocity." Starvation in Europe and big grain crops in this country bring about "an advance of our exports under the operation of the McKinley law." The "experimental bases" of these tin plate factories are quite expensive affairs, when the deal is summed up.

Mr. Depew says he had the name of Whitelaw Reid on the book from the beginning. Col. Shepard says, "Just as the New York delegation was about to agree upon his (Shepard's) name for vice-president Whitelaw Reid's name was suggested and it acted like a charm." In the light of remote possibilities the country may tremble, and be thankful—but, there's a falsity somewhere as to priority of consideration. Is Depew a double-dealer?

A Chicago paper says, tersely, Charlie Farwell contributed $10,000 towards Harrison's election, and he feels grievously hurt over the slights that have been put upon him. What is ten thousand dollars to the crowd that have such a pull on the country as the high-protection manipulators? What is such a paltry sum alongside the Wanamaker fund and the barrel rolled in from the pet regions of Pennsylvania? Mr. Farwell is too small. He isn't in it.

The New York papers caricature Chicago and its wigwam unmercifully. They would better turn their guns on their blamed ugly politics that they are trying to foist into national councils. The Chicago wigwam may look like a barn outside; there are some good fighters against New York methods on the inside. It's very petty in the seaboard metropolis to self exhibit such spirit. If the city's confidence equaled its assumption there would be less bluster.

Serious times with the strikers in the mines in Minnesota. Hungarians, Italians, Sicilians, and Poles, even, rebel against their treatment from government protected employes, and another army of foreigners will be put in their places if the owners dare to defy the ugly crowd discharged. More "beneficent workings of a tariff law for the protection of American labor!"

The organs which are "gagging" at the crow they must stuff down, now wish they had not divulged so many party secrets, and said such ugly things about their fellows; things that they can't "take back" without stultifying themselves.

Somehow the lynching of the "rustlers" in Wyoming doesn't appeal to the fiery spirit of republican avengers. It is only the negro ravisher, in the south, strung to the limb of a tree that moves them to threats of vengeance and massacre.

The growl at the democratic house for slowness loses somewhat of an honest flavor when it is considered that the senate is far behind the house, with appropriations, and all other bills.

"The lack of harmony in the Minneapolis convention was only skin deep," says the Boston Journal. The Journal should remember that some of the fighters have hides like the rhinoceros.

Clarkson is playing clever now; he wants to hang on to his committee place. Dethrone him and see? This is the heighth and depth of principle in republican politics.

There is still a "Chilean question." Chilean diplomats say it can be settled by taking the man Egan home and sending an American to represent the country at their capital.

It all looks like Cleveland, but if it be not he, there are some majestic forms looming up behind him.

What is all this fuss about Whitelaw Reid's foreign diplomacy? His treaty with France didn't hold.

Mr. Gladstone declines to enter at all into the eight-hours-a-day discussion. He thinks such a law would necessarily need a great many provisos and exceptions. He told the deputation that waited upon him that the remainder of his working days in public life would be devoted to the home rule struggle. In this Mr. Gladstone unconsciously gives a little lesson to workers for a cause, and that is continued effort and concentration of purpose and action.

Every day the blessing of an Atlantic cable strikes us anew. Just think if we had to wait six days to find out who is "coaching around Paris."

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Ohio man is trying hard to make a profound impression in Chicago. He still covets the earth and the fulness thereof.—Boston Herald.

Whatever the result of the Chicago convention may be, that result will be influenced neither by the parasols of excited females in the galleries nor by the votes of blackhorse cavalry on the floor.—N. Y. World.

Whitelaw Reid promises to make terms with the printers at once. He says he has all along wanted to employ only union men in his printing office, but has been overruled by his wicked partners and the office cat. Of course the printers will at once forget the long years of their fighting against the New York Tribune, and fall into line for the republican ticket having their new friend at its tail.—Chicago Times.

Memorandum for Brer Harrison: It was force-bill politics under the name of re-construction that brought on the paralyzing financial panic of 1873 and the democratic tidal wave in the congressional elections of 1874. That was a good many years ago, but neither the plain voters nor the capitalists with money at stake have forgotten the facts. Capital may be lacking in soul, but it has a long memory for some things.—St. Louis Republic.

Mr. Blaine's exit from political life is not even tragic. He cannot escape sharing the ridicule which the country is heaping upon the absurd efforts of his managers to galvanize into life the dead enthusiasm over his name. The "Blaine yell" will never be heard again in a political convention, and we devoutly hope that no politician will ever again think it possible to force delegates to a nomination against their will by turning loose on them a lot of shrieking women in the gallery.—New York Post.

Cleveland has two-thirds of the delegates to the democratic national convention. If he has half as good management of his forces as Harrison did he will have a walk-over. Nothing but mismanagement or political and moral cowardice can defeat him. To allow the mal-contents in New York to intimidate the convention by threats of defeat would be as bad as a crime. It would be an outrage against the best sentiment of the country, and the party would deserve defeat in the coming election.—Manchester Union.

The probability now is that Cleveland will be nominated whether he obtains the votes of the New York delegates or not. For no one can deny that he has a pledged support of more than one-third of the delegates to the convention. And a support of one-third, if it remain unshaken, will of course prevent the nomination of any other man. And it appears likely to remain unshaken for it is composed of the best elements of the party and is of an ardent and devoted nature. The democrats cannot select a stronger man to lead their forlorn hope—destined to defeat in any case—than Grover Cleveland, and it begins to look as though his opponents would find it impossible to nominate any other man.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

"Gov. Boles," says the Atlanta Journal, "would certainly be a strong candidate in the west. While he is being pressed nominally for the first place on the ticket it is understood that what his supporters really hope for is to nominate him for vice-president. It is now almost universally conceded that Mr. Cleveland will be nominated for president on the first ballot, and that the name of Gov. Boles may not be presented in that connection. But when the nominations for vice-president shall be in order Boles will be heard from, and is likely to make a stir in the convention." All of which is well said. There could not possibly be a better choice for vice-president this year than Gov. Boles, and the first place awaits him four years later. He is, we believe, the strongest democrat in the country except Cleveland.—Charleston (S. C.) Courier.

MR. BLAINE IN TOLEDO

En Route to Chicago to Attend His Son's Funeral.

The Veteran Statesman Looks Careworn and Haggard—He Has Everyone's Sympathy.

The veteran statesman, James G. Blaine, was in Toledo for a few minutes this morning, en route to Chicago, where he goes to attend his son's funeral.

Quite a number of people, anxious to see or hear Mr. Blaine, were at the Union depot at 7:40 when the Lake Shore train pulled in from the east. He occupied a special car, but all sight-seers were promptly excluded from the car, and indeed very few felt like intruding on the sorrows of the old gentleman.

He did not sleep much last night, and what with the long ride, the heat and personal suffering over the loss of his son he looked completely broken down.

His face, once so ruddy and handsome, as remembered by those who saw him here a few years ago, is careworn, haggard and full of intense suffering. Even the employes of the train seem to respect the great man's sorrow, and they spoke in whispers in and around the car.

Here as elsewhere James G. Blaine has the heartfelt sympathy of all people. The loss of his son is evidently a severe one.

Mrs. Blaine and Miss Hattie Blaine were the only members of the Blaine family who accompanied him.

AT IT AGAIN.

Street Railway Companies in Court.

An Injunction Issued Restraining the Consolidated From Repairing Tracks for the Present.

Late Saturday the Toledo Electric Street Railway company filed a petition in common pleas court for and obtained a temporary injunction restraining the Consolidated Street Railway company from constructing and rebuilding certain railway tracks in the city.

The suit grows out of the same controversy which is pending in the council relative to the repair of certain tracks.

The petition sets up that by virtue of the condemnation proceedings the plaintiffs and defendants have joint use of the tracks in the streets, for which the plaintiff paid $33,000.

The plaintiff claims to have spent large sums to keep the tracks in repair; that the Consolidated refuses to assist in any manner but desires to do the repairing and reconstructing alone and individually. The plaintiff also claims a valuable interest in the tracks, and that by repairs could be made to last much longer.

The plaintiff alleges that it stands ready and willing to share the cost of such repairs jointly, and to have a similar use in the same.

The petition says that the Consolidated refuses to have anything to do with the Robisons in any manner, pertaining to terms of repairs and reconstruction.

The petition claims that the Consolidated desires to rebuild the tracks, and thereby bar the Robisons from the use of the same, on the ground that the only rights the Robisons acquired by condemnation proceedings was the use of the tracks in the streets at the time. It is alleged that the object of the Consolidated is to disconnect and interfere with public travel and the company's business.

An ordinance has been introduced in the council to settle the terms by which new tracks shall be constructed and used, and the injunction restrains any action in the matter until the council takes action.

Speaking with a Bee on the subject, Manager Lang, of the Consolidated, said: "We have been enjoined by the common pleas court from doing just what the city has ordered us to do. The Robisons want to gain an interest in our property, when the condemnation proceedings, if right at all, only gives them a use of the tracks then condemned."

THE FIRST CAR LOAD

Of This Year's Wheat Secured by Toledo.

It is Bought Up by Paddock, Hodge & Co. at 90 Cents—An Offer of 95 Made and Declined.

Toledo claims the ownership of the first carload of new wheat marketed this year. The following dispatch from St. Louis is self-explanatory:

The first receipt of the crop of 1892—a car grading No. 2 Rer (plump, bright, clean and dry—long berry) from Waco, Texas—was received here yesterday, and sold by auction on the call to-day at 90c per bu. It was finally taken for shipment to Toledo.

The buyer was the enterprising grain firm of Paddock, Hodge & Co., of this city.

Mr. Bowman showed a Bee this morning a sample. It weighs 61 pounds to the bushel, and seems to be of a very superior quality.

An hour after buying it Paddock, Hodge & Co. received an offer of 95c, 5c advance, but declined it.

The car is now en route over the Clover Leaf for Toledo. This road, by the way, is doing a rushing grain business.

THE PASTORS' MEETING.

The Question of Sunday Observance

Will Come Up for Discussion at a Public Meeting at the Central Congregational Church This Evening.

The Pastors' union held its regular meeting at the First Congregational church this morning and listened to an interesting and able paper by Rev. M. A. Dyer on the progress of education among the colored people. Afterwards the paper was discussed at length.

During the meeting the article in Saturday's Bee regarding the tiff between Judge Sala and Rev. W. W. Williams was referred to. One of the reverend gentlemen stated that there was no truth in the statement. It might be well to state that the little affair in question did not occur during the trial, but afterwards in the police clerk's office, exactly as stated.

The pastors do not think they were well treated in court. Mr. Gunnels made remarks to them, they say, that the court should not have allowed.

Regarding this matter one of the clergymen, who was inclined to be liberal in the matter, said to a Bee: "Perhaps things were said during the trial that might have sounded harsh. But, then, in almost every trial somebody is hit by the attorneys and those interested in the heat of the battle. Even lawyers who are good friends give each other lively digs. Mr. Gunnels was, no doubt, mad. It was dollars and cents to him, and the pocket-book is the surest place to touch. The work the pastors undertook has been accomplished. If there were any knocks received in the conflict they should be taken gracefully. No one could expect victory without some resistance and attending unpleasantries."

This evening a public meeting will be held at the Central Congregational church, under the auspices of the committee of laymen and pastors of various city churches, to openly discuss Sunday ball playing and other non-observances of the Sabbath. There will be a number of speakers present, and the future proceedings of the committee will be outlined.

THE SAENGERFEST

Will be Held in Toledo in August, 1894.

The City Will be Full to Overflowing With Singers of More Than Local Repute.

Toledo will have the honor of getting the seventh Ohio German Saengerfest in August, 1894. As usual the honor is coming here because there is no city in the country that can entertain as well as the city on the Maumee.

This time the Teutonia Maennerchor, of Toledo, has the management in hand, and will make it as great an event as given here in 1879. The organization is constituted of 19 German male singing societies, all of the state of Ohio.

The Teutonia society, of Toledo, has elected the following officers, who will as a general committe on arrangements, have full charge. These selections are a credit to the society, and will be regarded as fully competent to handle and control such a great undertaking:

President—P. J. Mettler.
First vice president—Philip Schmidt.
Second vice president—Jacob Folger.
Third vice president—John J. Jacobi.
Recording secretry—Henry Stock.
Financial secretary—Wm. F. chmidt.
Corresponding secretary—Otto Nitzscher.
Treasurer—Fred Ritter.

The different committees will be appointed next Thursday evening at P. J. Mettler's office.

Mr. Mettler thanked the society for the great honor conferred in electing him Fest-pres'dent, and in a very neat speech promised to do all in his power in assisting to make the seventh Ohio Saengerfest one of the greatest ever held.

NIAGARA FALLS AND THOUSAND ISLAND SPECIAL.

CATCHING UP TO TOLEDO.

St. Louis, June 20.—Work has commenced this week on the reconstruction of the last three horse-car lines in St. Louis. The three roads, when the work of reconstruction is complete, will have 46 miles of track and will bring the total mileage of electric roads in St. Louis up to about 300. There will be no horse-car lines in the business section of St. Louis after September 1, and electricity as a motive power is so popular here that another cable road is about to be changed into an electric line.

RAVACHOL'S TRIAL.

New York, June 20.—A dispatch from Paris says: The trial of Ravachol, the anarchist, for the murder of Brunel, the hermit of Chambles, and for the murder of the two sisters Marcon at Ste Etienne, opened to-day before the Montbrison assizes. The trial will be conducted in secret, and the names of the jurymen, which have been selected by lot, will not be disclosed for fear that the anarchist associates of the prisoner may seek revenge.

BOBOLINK PHILOSOPHY.

I know a deep philosopher who's far too wise to talk.
That babbling, breezy blatherskite, the boisterous bobolink.

So drunk is he with wine of joy, so music-mad with mirth,
His tipsy carols of content rejuvenate the earth.

We feel the Orient joy of life with which our world began—
'Tis summer in the earth and air and in the heart of man.

From what deep fount of flowing joy does this mad minstrel drink?
This babbling, breezy blatherskite, this boisterous bobolink?
From rounded apple blossom cups where wild bees browse and bloom;
From tiger lily beakers and from chalices of bloom;

From strawberry-goblets filled with dew, the incense of the night,
Caught from the sky's inverted urn embossed with starry light.

Forth from his blossom-bed he leaps, and laughingly and strong
All up and down the ringing earth he weaves his web of song.

And preaches boldly to the sad the folly of despair,
And tells to whom it may concern that all the world is fair.

And to my heart his wisdom finds a surer welcome home
Than some that has been sanctioned by the sages of old Rome.

That bubbling, breezy blatherskite, the boisterous bobolink
Is such a deep philosopher, he's far too wise to think.
—Sam Walter Foss in Yankee Blade.

AN AVERTED TRAIN WRECK.

As the following sensational tale came from the lips of a western telegrapher, who made one of the group of story tellers, he playing an important part in the incident, and as his veracity has never been questioned, the tale must be accepted at the proper value of undiluted truth, and so pass into the record of tales undoubted from the wild and woolly west.

"In my early experience with the telegraph business," said he, "I was located at a place called Medicine Hat, a small group of shanties on the Northern Pacific railroad, as operator, ticket agent and express agent. Medicine Hat could be classed among the towns as being thirty miles from nowhere. What little business was done was on account of a mining village some thirty miles back in the mountains. The entire population of Medicine Hat could have been easily crowded into the little village station.

"One night, after a day of the most sultry weather that I had experienced for months, I was delayed at my office on account of delayed trains. A continuous roll of thunder, accompanied by sharp flashes of lightning in the distance, warned me of an approaching storm. I fretted and stormed, as I wanted to get to my boarding shanty, about a quarter of a mile up the country road, before the storm broke. I was leaning back in my chair musing over the events that had brought me west, when suddenly a voice broke upon my ears:

"'Hold up your hands, quick!'

"Glancing up I saw a huge revolver pointed through the little window in the wall through which I sold tickets and behind it a weird mask with terrible shining eyes. In endeavoring to comply with the command, escpecially the latter injunction, my chair swung around, my head struck on the edge of the table and unconscious I rolled to the floor.

"When I regained my wits I found myself lying on the floor of the outer waiting-room, bound hand and foot, with a bad, ungainly looking fellow standing guard over me with a Winchester. The storm had broken over us and the wind, rain, lightning and thunder were something terrific.

"All at once my trained ear caught the sound of the telegraph sounder, and turning my head I perceived a man at my desk working away at my key. He wore a mask, but this did not disguise the fact that he was a young man. As the characters were ticked off and came to my ears I knew he was feeling his way as to the location of the delayed trains. I also noticed that he frequently arose and made use of the ground wire from the switchboard, which cut off the main office in which was located the train runner of the division. At intervals sharp cracks of lightning would re-echo through the room as they struck the arrester on the switch. But the man worked on totally oblivious of his surroundings.

"Suddenly I caught the drift of what he was sending out over the wire, and was horrified to learn that he was trying to manipulate the train orders so as to cause a wreck. Trains 47 and 48 passed each other about five miles up the road from my station, and he was sending out orders with a cool, steady hand to train 47 to take a siding about ten miles east of Medicine Hat, and train 48 to pass 47 at the regular place. These orders would have thrown the two trains, which were heavily laden with passengers and express matter, together very near my station.

"I could easily hear the sounder, and from his orders knew the would-be wrecker was an expert telegrapher and thoroughly familiar with train running. Every now and then the wrecker would raise his hand from the key as a more severe stroke of lightning would come in over the wire, but he was too intent on his deadly work to desist. The tramp of heavy boots on the platform outside told me that the contemplated wreck was an organized scheme for robbing the express company and passengers. Muttered curses frequently came from the man at the key, as his plans for wrecking the train would meet with obstacles in the shape of pertinent questions from operators up the line, who wouldn't follow the new order of things without fully understanding their import.

"My mind was in a horrible whirl and I frequently strained at my bindings to get my hands loose, but a savage curse from my guard warned me to be careful or my life would not be worth much. On account of the trains being behind time I knew they would be pushed to their utmost speed by the engineer, and if they came together the wreck would be a horrible one.

"The storm continued to increase in force and peal after peal of thunder re-echoed over and above the little station. Still the wrecker at the key kept steadily at work weaving his web of destruction. Suddenly he called out in a voice of mingled satisfaction and devilish glee:

"'Ah, that fixes the matter all right. Forty-seven has signed the orders at the water tank and in ten minutes they'll be together. Tell the men to spread out up—'

"He never finished the sentence. A blinding flash at the switchboard, a shriek from the wrecker and the office appeared to be one mass of flame. My guard rushed from the building, and with a mighty effort I wrenched my hands free and pulled myself through the door. The little station was as dry as tinder, the oil from the trainmen's lamps added to the combustible nature of its make-up, and in a moment flames were breaking out in every part.

"With loud cries several of the wrecker's confederates dashed towards the little room to pull their leader out, but the heat drove them back, and as voices were heard up the country road coming towards the station they all disappeared in the darkness.

"A man named 'Humpy' Logan untied my legs, as my hands were useless on account of the great numbness occasioned by the tightness of the thongs, and I quickly explained the situation to him. He hunted up a lamp and dashed down the track and around the curve in one direction, while I swung the lantern upon the train coming down the straight piece of track to the station in the other direction. My lantern was not seen by the engineer, but the burning station acted as a danger signal and the train drew up at the station, the engineer totally ignorant of the danger they were escaping and only intent upon helping to subdue the flames. Twenty-five words explained the situation to the engineer and a group of passengers that gathered around, and as train 47 slowly rounded the curve from the east, substantiating my story, the organization of a prayer meeting then and there would have been an easy matter.

"The engineers of both trains with their conductors held a consultation and 48 finally backed to the next siding, followed by 47, and the tangle was straightened out.

"The next day the remains of the would-be wrecker were found in the ruins of the station, and the railroad company's physician, after holding an autopsy, declared that the man had only been stunned by the lightning, and while unconscious had been smothered and then burned to a crisp.

"In all my experience with lightning that was the luckiest bolt that ever hugged a wire," said the narrator as he finished his tale, "and the lucky stars of the people on those two trains were undoubtedly in the ascendane on that terrible night."—Washington Star.

Ernest Lavisse, the successful competitor of Zola for the chair in the French academy made vacant by the death of Admiral Jurien de la Graviere, is just 50 years old.

The King of Italy, attended by the court, has assisted at the inauguration of a monument erected at Turin in commemoration of the Italian soldiers who took part in the Crimean war.

Undaunted by the third refusal of the academy to elect him to membership, Zola announces his intention of not only offering himself at the next vacancy but of continuing to offer himself indefinitely.

The death is announced at Madrid of the notorious Carlos Marfori, Marquis de Loja, one of the last in the long list of favorites of Isabella II., and one of the causes of her expulsion from Spain. He was the son of an Italian cook, and owed his preferment to his good looks.

The Rev. Robert Collyer, like Orator Puff, has two tones to his voice. Ordinarily he speaks with a rich Yorkshire brogue, but when warmed up to his discourse his voice varies so in its volume and intonation that a blindfolded listener could not be persuaded that there were not two men in the pulpit talking in alternate or amoebean strains.

King Oscar, of Sweden, who is now visiting in Paris, is a man of tall and spare figure, with white hair and beard that were black when he was lost in the French capital. He enjoys excellent health. When the king visited President Carnot at the Elysee he wore the medal granted him by the French government for throwing himself before two horses that were running away with a carriage filled ladies.

The Duke of Portland, who is one of the richest noblemen in England, has just added 20,000 acres to his shooting preserves. The duke has now 80,000 acres, or 125 square miles, reserved solely for the use of his gun. He believes in doing things on a large scale. His town house extends along nearly the entire side of Cavendish Square, and "Welbeck," his seat in Nottinghamshire, is said to be the finest woodland domain in England.

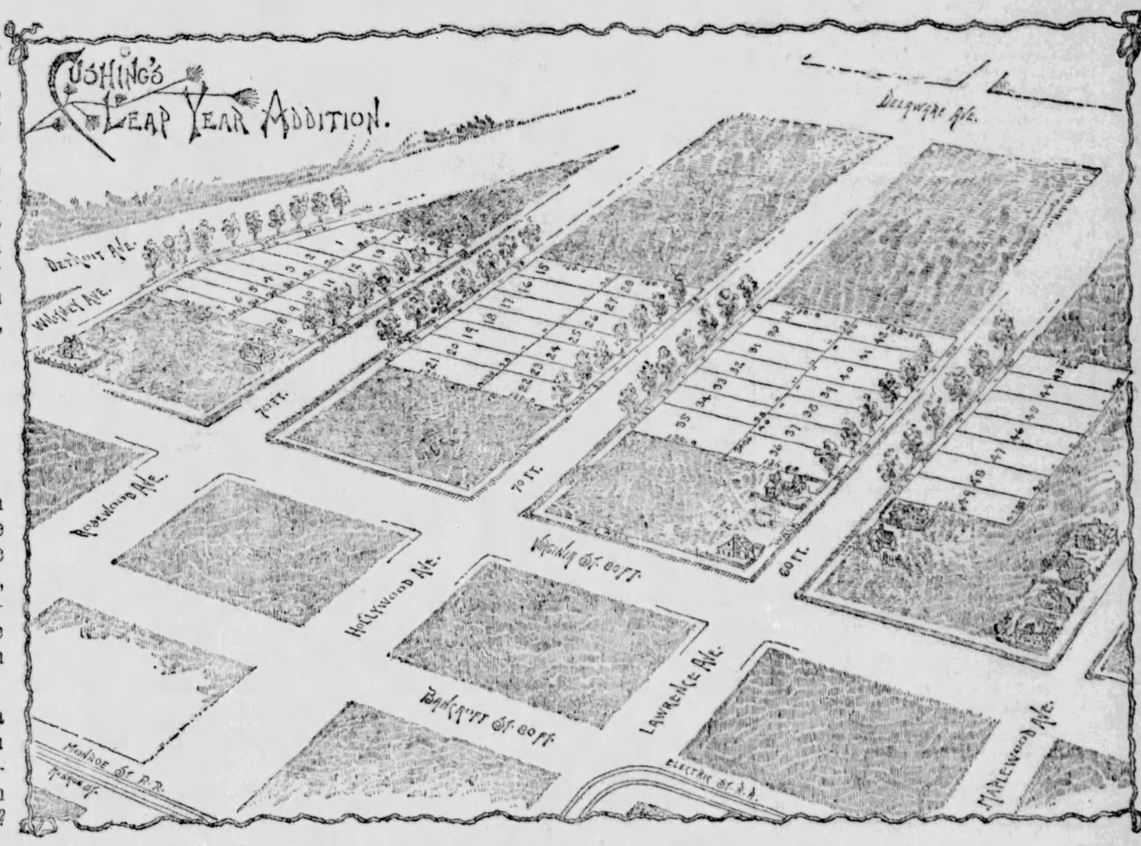
Is laid out on LAWRENCE, HOLLYWOOD, ROSEWOOD, and DETROIT AVENUES, just above Virginia street and west of Maplewood avenue. It comprises forty-nine choice lots, all well graded, high and dry. We have laid a sidewalk before every lot and planted at intervals of twenty feet, good sized nursery-grown Silver Maple Shade Trees, which grow very rapidly.



. . THE . . STREET CAR FACILITIES ARE UNEQUALLED

In Toledo. Almost within hailing distance you have three cars, viz: The Electric Belt Line going both ways, and the Monroe Street Line—either one of which will take you down town in less than fifteen minutes.

What's the use riding in a car, however, when you can walk down easily in twenty-five minutes or ride down on your bicycle in ten minutes?

BANK ON TOLEDO! DIGEST THIS!

Although Toledo has received a good inheritance from nature, and has accomplished wonders in the last few years yet she has never fully realized her marvelous advantages Farsighted men, however, are investing in Real Estate, as they realize that she will soon awaken with a start.

The sleeping man who was kicked, said he felt it but didn't see it coming. Don't you be asleep and be compelled to say likewise when Toledo does get a boost. Awake from your stupor and take a hypodermic injection of sound, solid sense.

There are altgether too many sleepers in our midst. You can easily spot them. They drowsily imagine themselves back in the seventies, and are fond of their Manhattan recollections. They are afraid of improvements and prefer to be torpid like their livers. Don't mind them. They are dying off rapidly.

Toledo is a winner, so put your surplus savings into land now.

Our Leap Year Addition was platted for you.

Take the elevator on the basement floor and go up with the prices.

Take the Robisons' Belt Line going either way and get off at Bancroft and Lawrence or Monroe St.; Consolidated to Lawrence avenue.

THESE LOTS ARE IN IT! WHAT?

The best residence portion of Toledo to-day is situated west of Collingwood, between Monroe and Delaware, comprising Parkwood, Scottwood, Robinwood, Glenwood, Maplewood, Lawrence, Hollywood, Rosewood and Detroit avenues. This section has seen some wonderful changes in the last five or six years. What was then almost one vast open field, to-day is sub-divided by beautiful asphalt streets, traversed by electric cars, and dotted with handsome residences, the homes of some of our most prominent and respected citizens. Those who bought on these streets six years ago, have made fortunes as the records show that this property has MORE THAN DOUBLED EVERY THREE YEARS. Now is the time to invest, as what was a SPECULATION five or six years ago, is a SURE INVESTMENT TO-DAY.

What Shall the Harvest be for You?

PLANT YOUR DIMES IN OUR LEAP YEAR ADDITION AND REAP A FULL CROP OF DOLLARS!

WHY DONT YOU BUY A HOME?

Be honest. Look this question squarely in the face, it is of vital importance to you. Don't beat around the bush and say you don't need one now, for that is all bosh. You may not wish to build now, but buy a lot and put your savings into it. By next spring your lot has greatly increased in value, you have saved money and feel better able to build. We will advance money for you to build. If you are young and unmarried, that is not saying that you always will be, so get a gait. You may get around it by saying that you cannot now afford it, but this is nonsense, as every one of us spend more money needlessly every month than the small payments necessary to buy a home. If you are a married man, it is a duty which you owe your family to supply them with "all the comforts of a home." Do you realize that landlords are getting fat at you expense? Down with rents. IF YOU DO NOT ATTEND OUR SALE and see what we have to offer, you may be likened to a man who saw a ten dollar gold piece on the street and passed it by thinking it was brass. He left it for a shrewder man to pick up.

REAL ESTATE ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS--Offers the best inducements to those of slender means. Lots on installment plan differs from most every thing else. For instance, you buy a piano and have three or four years to pay for it, you have made a good bargain, because you wanted the piano and perhaps couldn't find it convenient to pay for it at once. SO WITH THE LOT. However, at end of period the piano has decreased in value, but the lot HAS DOUBLED IN VALUE.

BONUSES--This is for You. Have you seen that elegant Parlor Set of Furniture now on exhibition in Conant Bros. Furniture Company's window? It is to be GIVEN AWAY FREE to those who attend our sale, everybody to have a chance to draw it, whether they buy a lot or not. If desired it can be changed for any thing in the store to the amount of $100. We want you all to come, and offer this as an inducement.

Besides offering these lots at prices which put us to the blush, we will share our profits still further with the purchasers, BY GIVING THEM LOT NO. 1 FREE! The purchasers themselves to settle how it is to be awarded.

YOU MAY WELL WONDER How we can do this, but it is no secret and is easily explained. It is simply a matter of business, and comes under the head of wholesale and retail. We have placed the prices on these lots to sell them during the sale, and if you buy you are getting lots at wholesale prices. Besides, we own property above this addition which will be more valuable after this sale. If any lots are left over, which is not likely, you will have to pay what they are worth, or an advance of 25 per cent. to 40 per cent. Isn't this worth saving? We must do business.

First come, first served! Remember the dates. No lots sold before 2 o'clock Tuesday. You need only bring $10.00 with you during the sale. Title perfect. Lenderson, Lang & Stewart opinion with every lot. Call at our office for Consolidated and Robison tickets. Free ride, free lunch, free furniture, free lot, free air and freedom. What more do you want?

"I will not go out of my class again to fight anybody except Corbett. I will fight Choynski at 158 pounds, and at no other weight. If Corbett defeats Sullivan I want to meet Corbett. I would not fight with Sullivan, though.

Captain Kelton said today that no official communication had been received regarding a race with Oxford, and that all the information he had of any proposition for a contest came from the newspapers.

DROWNED.

Youngstown, O., June 20.—William Sharp, of Newcastle, Pa., employed here in the brick yards, while bathing in Mill Creek, was stricken with cramps and drowned before assistance could reach him.

AN INCENDIARY FIRE.

Lima, O., June 20.—Two saloons and two grocery stores were destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock this morning at Beaver Dam, a village six miles north. The fire originated in one of the saloons and was undoubtedly incendiary. The loss will reach $5,000.

THE GAS QUESTION AGAIN.

Norwalk, Sandusky and Bellevue Interested.

The Company Wants Twenty Cents a Thousand From the Consumers.

Norwalk, O., June 20.—(Special)—Two years ago the city council of Norwalk made a contract with the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas company to supply our people with gas for 15 cents a thousand. There have been signs and rumors in the air which indicated that the company would make a move to obtain an increase of rate to 20 cents. They called a conference of the city councils of Sandusky, Bellevue and Norwalk to meet the officers of the company and talk the matter over. The conference met at Middle Bass Thursday. Messrs. O'Day, Tonkin and Daly represented the company. O'Day, who represents the Standard oil interests, was the chief spokesman. He said that the wells which three years ago gave 400 to 500 pounds pressure did not now exceed 225 pounds, and that if sufficient pressure should be maintained to supply all the towns it would be necessary to put in pumps at an expense of $75,000 to $100,000, but that that expense could not be incurred without an increase of rate.

He thought that 20 cents a thousand would be the least that could be considered.

He was asked what the effect would be if the Sandusky council should raise the price to 20 cents and the other towns should not. He replied that natural gas was like potatoes, and would naturally go where it could get the most money.

The only complaint that has been made has come from Sandusky. Bellevue and Norwalk have been well supplied. Sandusky pays 12 1-2 cents; Norwalk and Bellevue pay 15 cents. The gas went where there was the most money. Sandusky has acted the part of the hog and asked the company to shut off the other two towns that they might get a better supply, but the company would not do it. It remains to be seen what our council will do towards allowing the contract to be broken and increase made to 20 cents.

SAFE, SURE AND SPEEDY.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Allcock's Porous Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin. Do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

TO DWELL IN HARMONY.

Railroad Employes to Get Together.

Opening of an Important Meeting in St. Louis—Much Work to be Done.

Chicago, June 20.—The annual convention of the Supreme Council of the United Order of Railroad Employees opened here this afternoon, and most of the delegates are on the grounds.

Considerable interest attaches to the gathering from the fact that a strong effort will be made to heal the differences between the Switchmen and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The Order of Railway Conductors, the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the National Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, the latter of whom are holding their second annual convention at St. Louis to-day, have also made application to be represented in the council. If these additions are made and the switchmen's grievances settled this council would constitute one of the most powerful labor organizations in the United States, and would represent all branches of trainmen, save the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and which may be forced to come in for self protection.

The Carmen's organization, although but two years old, has already a membership of over 3,500.

FREMONT.

Politics Mixed up in the Affairs of the City.

Fremont, O., June 20.—(Special)—The village of Hessville, about six miles west of this city, was visited by a cyclone Saturday afternoon. Large trees and fences were torn and scattered in all directions. The crops were badly damaged. The people were nearly panic stricken and thought their last day had come.

Fremont's democratic mayor and republican council are having a great time with supplying new police. The council is kept in hot water declining democratic appointments. At a special meeting of the council the police committee was instructed to confer and arbitrate with the mayor.

BARN BURNED.

Wapakoneta, O., June 20.—(Special)—Fire totally destroyed the stable and contents belonging to Mrs. Anna Young, of the Second ward. The barn was used as a ware room, where the entire outfit of household goods of her son Charles was stored. Total loss $800; no insurance.

S. S. S. CURES MALARIAL POISON

Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S. S. S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.

AN EXCEPTION!

To the rule that competition for cheapness and competition for excellence are always strangers. You are aware that the bulk of spring clothing is sold before the Fourth of July. The reason why we can sell you fine custom-made clothing very much cheaper than what is designated as ready made clothing requires no vivid imagination to understand. The custom tailors show good judgment when they send us uncalled-for garments for less in some cases than the cost of the material. They consider the first loss the best. They do not desire to carry any made-up garments over, anticipating a better price next spring (a year from now. Ready cash is what they want. There appears to be no end to the amount they are sending us daily. Our trade justifies us in still receiving these rare bargains. We shall offer this week for

Fine imported Clay Worsteds, Whip Cords, Cassimeres, Cheviots and many other weaves too numerous to mention, in Sack and Frocks, light and dark shades, all mixtures, and all cuts, straight fronts and double-breasted sacks, skeleton backs, silk lined, etc. Come and look at them. See if you think they can be made to order for $35.00 by a first-class tailor. For $10.00.

We will show you ALL WOOL CASSIMERE SUITS AND GOOD GRADES, All Wool CHEVIOTS, light and dark plain patterns and mixtures. You can't get them made to order for less than $25.00 to $30.00.

SKEPTICS ARE INVITED TO LOOK AT THESE GARMENTS AND WILL NOT BE URGED TO BUY.

Ask to see our fine imported Light Colored Cassimeres and Cheviots, Sack Suits, silk lined. Nothing so refined and artistic ever came to this city before this season. We sell them for $18.00, $20.00 $22.50 and $25.00.

Before they got Sapolio. the proverb ran—"The pan says to the pot, Keep off or you'll smutch me."

If your grocer sends you anything in place of SAPOLIO, send it back and insist upon having just what you ordered. SAPOLIO always gives satisfaction. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. Everything shines after it, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 558,686 bu and at five other western points 240,767 bu.

The export clearances Saturday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 245,762 bu, and flour to an aggregate of 450,000 bu. Export of corn 48,748 bu and of oats 104,102 bu. English markets are dull and uninteresting for wheat and steady for corn.

New York reports 110 loads of wheat taken for export there and as other Atlantic ports on Saturday last.

Bradstreet's estimate of surplus and the coming crop—We consider it very unfortunate for the price of wheat throughout the world that this high authority should have sent out the estimate of surplus of old and the production of the new crop, as printed in their issue of the 18th. We can only look upon it as a statement, tinged unjustifiably with rosy hues. We do not believe in such a crop as 550,000,000 bu, nor 500,000,000 bu. We know that one-half the fields in almost every western state, perhaps Kansas excepted, are thin and will not yield an average. We are as sure as we can be upon any question not proved, that the crop cannot aggregate 500,000,000 bu. We are too much addicted to advertising a huge crop to European buyers, and it reacts upon us. We sincerely believe that Bradstreet's is a mistake.

The visible supply of wheat decreased in the week 645,000 bu.; corn increased 618,000 bu., and oats 135,000 bu. In the corresponding week in 1891 wheat decreased 842,300 bu., corn 637,400 bu., oats 234,300 bu.

The shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 1,280,000 bu. Previous week, 1,440,000 bu. From April 1 the commencement of the crop year, to June 1, 15,112,000 bu., compared with 14,540,000 bu. in the corresponding period in 1891.

The wheat and corn markets are being milked; daily, and it seems to be an easy process. What has happened for the past three days occurred again to-day. Wheat and corn opened a shade above Saturday's closing, made an advance of 1c on wheat and 1-4c on corn, both for July, and then began to break off, and closed just about where they did on Saturday. There are no potential causes for the fluctuations. The visible supply decrease is light for the season, and the receipts are large. But week by week the stuff is moving out of the country, and we raise the question if No. 2 wheat at Chicago for July is not cheap enough at 78 1-2c?

Corn is being played by the managers of the July deal with a great deal of adroitness, and the shorts are again the sufferers.

London, Liverpool and Berlin close higher, while Paris is a shade lower.

In New York June wheat closed 1-8 up and July unchanged. June corn 7-8 up, July 7-8.

In Chicago July wheat closed 1-4 up. June corn 1-2 lower, July 1-8 lower. June oats 1-8 up.

In Toledo the trading in wheat has been light and without any new features of importance. Chicago is constantly chattering about an early wheat harvest. The south always harvests early. A little wheat, but it is of no great account. The general harvests cannot be early, but may be average. There has been no great fluctuations in prices here. The July future opened a shade easier, advanced, but the advance was lost and the close 1-4c lower than Saturday. On the call July sold at 83 1-2c to 83 3-8c. After the call June sold at 86 1-2c and closed at 1-4c. July sold at 83 1-8c to 83 3-4c and close dat 83 1-8c. August sold at 81 3-4c to 82 1-4c and closed at 81 5-8c.

Cash wheat was quiet. No special demand. Car lot sales of No. 2 soft at 86 1-2 to 86 1-4; No. 3 soft at about 83 1-2; No. 4 soft about 80; No. 1 white at 86 1-2.

Corn, July sold at 50 to 50 1-4; No. 2 cash about 51; No. 3 at 48; No. 4 at 42. Nothing in oats and rye.

WHOLESALE LYNCHING.

One Murderer Killed and Two Others in Tight Quarters.

Macomb City, Miss., June 20.—John Johnson, one of the negroes implicated in the murder of Merchant Colquhoun last Thursday night, was hanged here Saturday night by a mob of 2,000 citizens, both white and black.

Johnson made a confession implicating two other negroes, Joe Gray and John Williams, who are now in the county jail at Magnolia.

Immediately after the hanging of Johnson the mob seized an engine and started for Magnolia with the avowed purpose of storming the jail at that place and securing the two negroes.

If the plans of the mob are carried out the two prisoners will be brought back to the scene of the murder and hanged.

TO BOOM THE FAIR.

St. Louis is Going to Get in Out of the Rain.

St. Louis, June 20.—The Missouri World's Fair board has secured a large building on Main street close to the Eads bridge for storing exhibits for the world's fair, and a large number of articles will be housed in it to-day and every succeeding day until it is filled.

The board has just commenced the issue of a monthly magazine devoted exclusively to the world's fair interests, and great progress is being made in educating public opinion in regard to the fair.

As an instance of the good feeling which exists between Chicago and St. Louis in regard to world's fair matters, it may be mentioned that the St. Louis Autumnal Festivities association has provided and furnished a local office for the state commissioner and that the staff of the St. Louis Exposition association is assisting the commission in a variety of ways.

TELLER CONTRADICTS IT.

Washington, June 20.—Senator Teller, of Colorado, was asked this morning as to the truth of the rumor in Chicago quoting him as saying that if Gorman was nominated by the democrats he (Teller) would be for him. Mr. Teller emphatically denied ever having made such a statement, and declared further that he had never thought of such a thing.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Two Kegs of Powder on a Tear.

Fifty Persons Injured by an Explosion in a Kentucky Store.

Parmleysville, Ky., June 20.—Fifty persons were injured here last night by a terrible explosion.

Lightning struck the general store of W. H. Ryan. Two kegs of powder exploded, throwing a heavy iron safe through the roof and wounding all the occupants of the room, 50 in number.

Several physicians were at once called in to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate victims. Not one single occupant of Ryan's store escaped injury. Many, it is thought, will die from the effects of their hurts.

Mr. Ryan is a gentleman of considerable prominence, and a former representative of Wayne county in the legislature.

All of the party were thrown into the water, and Carrie Bieber, aged 19, and Minnie Mogk, aged 17, were drowned. The yacht Duke, when coming to their assistance, attempted to turn and Henry Pathow, jr., was knocked overboard by a boom and also drowned. All of the bodies have been recovered.

SENSATION AT FINDLAY.

Findlay, O., June 20.—(Special.)—Considerable excitement prevails here at the Hotel Marvin, one of the leading hotels of the city, over the finding of a six months male foetus in the ladies' water closet by workmen making repairs.

The child was evidently thrown into the sewer from the mouth of the closet, completely stopping it up, thus causing the discovery.

Coroner Howell and the hotel proprietors are making a thorough investigation to find out the guilty party. By the condition of the find it is thought the child had been dead about two weeks.

END OR THE TRIAL.

Chicago, June 20.—In Judge Hutchinson's court this morning the indictment against ex-Alderman Michelson, of the Fifteenth ward, charged with conspiracy to bribe, was nolle prossed. It is believed that similar action will be taken in the case of Alderman Bowler. These are the last of the so-called aldermanic boodle cases, all of which have been dismissed.

Happy days and restful nights result from using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It so regulates all the bodily functions and strengthens the nervous system that worry and fatigue are comparatively unknown and life is truly enjoyed. It is certainly a most wonderful medicine.

THE WONDERFUL NEW YORK CENTRAL.

The New York Central & Hudson River railroad is our road. We don't mean to say we own it, but it's ours to ride on. It is known the world over as "America's Greatest Railroad"—the noted four-track trunk line. Seventeen splendidly equipped passenger trains, north and west-bound, roll out daily from its magnificent Grand Central station, Fourth avenue and Forty-second street, in the very heart of New York city. It makes connections with all the principal northern and western points of travel, while its Hudson river route to and from Buffalo and Niagara Falls is a marvel for scenic beauty. The fine roadbed insures comfort and ease, its thorough construction making possible the fact that the New York Central trains have beat the world in the record for fast time. The passenger coaches are models, and more than comfortable; in style and finish they everywhere reflect the taste and skill of their builders. As to the parlor and sleeping cars—well, this road appears to have a patent there on everything cosy and attractive and luxurious, the traveler at once sinking into blissful repose by day and utter oblivion at night as he literally is whirled to a sound, sweet sleep, in a visit to the land of dreams. Add to this the conveniences, common to a vestibuled train, to be found in the buffet, the delightful smoker, the lunch and the more imposing dining tables, etc., and what is there to wish for? Then, if you are landed at the metropolis, there is a street car under the Grand Central station roof, on a side track, waiting to carry you exactly where you wish to go. Take the New York Central for Niagara Falls, and sure, next year, on a trip to Chicago.—From Daily and Weekly Item, Lynn, Mass.
